MISSION STATEMENT

LCC International University provides Christian liberal arts education within a diverse learning community that transforms people for servant leadership.

CORE VALUES

1. We believe that a liberal arts education integrates learning with all aspects of life.
2. We affirm a Christian worldview that invites all people to grow in truth and restoration through the power of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.
3. We value community as a safe place where people are respected, affirmed, and empowered, so that their dignity is upheld.
4. We pursue relationships that are mutual, authentic, and based on trust.
5. We celebrate diversity of cultures and traditions, personalities and opinions.

VISION STATEMENT

To be the leading Christian liberal arts university in Europe, renowned for its flourishing academic community, spiritual vitality, and global impact.

AN OVERVIEW OF THE UNIVERSITY

LCC International University is an exciting place to be! LCC was the first liberal arts university with Christian roots and orientation in all of Eastern Europe, and is growing rapidly. The four-year program offers the kind of liberal arts education that is characteristic of many North American universities and Christian higher education institutions.

As a Christian liberal arts institution, LCC offers certain qualities through its academic program. Those qualities may be summarized in the following three developmental goals of LCC, the goals of a liberal arts education:

- The development of a thoughtful citizen
- The development of character
- The development of a Christian worldview

The following sections describe these goals.

LIBERAL ARTS EDUCATION: THE DEVELOPMENT OF A THOUGHTFUL CITIZEN

The citizens of classical Greece studied the artes liberales (works befitting a free person) to obtain an education for free citizens who wanted to contribute to the life and development of their country.

Late in the second century of the Christian era, the church built upon this Greek tradition by developing the first Christian liberal arts college in Alexandria, Egypt, known as the Alexandrian Catechetical School. Students came from throughout the Mediterranean region to study, for every subject was considered worthy of examination within a Christ-centered academic environment.

Hugh of Saint Victor, an Augustinian monk in 12th century Paris, carried forward the academic commitments of the classical Greeks and the early church leaders by reviving the artes liberales to provide a dual focus on secular study and religious contemplation. Hugh's work became the basis for some of the great world universities such as the University of Paris.

Four hundred years later, the Jesuits of the Roman Catholic Church spread the classical education of artes liberales around the world in the many universities they founded, including Vilnius University in Lithuania's capital. Other Christian communities followed the Jesuit example, establishing Christian liberal arts universities around the world.

The liberal arts consist of the arts, humanities, social sciences and often the natural sciences. A liberal arts education is not simply the transfer of information, but thinking about and discussing related ideas. This type of learning functions best in an atmosphere of mutual respect and interaction between teacher and student. LCC builds upon a long tradition of rigorous academic study, caring human relationships and Christian worldview.

PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION: THE DEVELOPMENT OF CHARACTER

The Board, faculty and staff at LCC believe each student is a person of worth and dignity. Because of this, faculty members seek relationships with students. Students who attend LCC have opportunity to develop close ties with professors in the classroom and in informal settings. Faculty members strive to model lives of integrity which students may choose to emulate.

Strength of character involves the willingness to think, solve problems, and lead others by the way one lives. A person of character chooses to act ethically. For the individual, character results in the development of self-expression, personal freedom and responsibility, and a commitment to the well-being of others. A society filled with persons of strong character expects freedom and responsibility for all persons.

A CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY: THE DEVELOPMENT OF A CHRISTIAN WORLDVIEW

A worldview centered on the Judeo-Christian tradition is at the heart of LCC's programs of study. Faculty comes from a wide variety of church backgrounds. Students are admitted to LCC without regard to religious background. As an introduction to the worldview of LCC, students are required to take four courses from the Theology Department:

- Biblical Literature I
- Biblical Literature II
- Worldview and Christian Faith
- Ethics

A variety of Christian worship and service opportunities are offered to students but are not required. LCC wants to support the Christian church in the region and encourages students to worship in the church of their tradition and choice.

Together, these goals help create LCC as a distinctive institution. We are excited about that difference, and welcome you to experience it.

STATEMENT OF FAITH

The Apostles' Creed and Nicene Creeds are accepted by Orthodox, Roman Catholic and Protestant churches as statements that express the central beliefs of the Christian faith. LCC is committed to these Creeds and holds both as its Statement of Faith. See the Appendix for the text of the Creeds. LCC asks faculty and staff members to affirm these Creeds and seeks faculty members who are Christians actively involved in the church.

OUR HISTORY

At the invitation of the Ministry of Education and Culture, the Lithuania Christian Fund began the establishment of Lithuania Christian College in the summer of 1991 in Panevėžys. That summer LCC began with classes in the English language at the first Summer Language Institute. During the fall and spring of 1991-1992, students studied English full-time in the English Language Institute.

Following a move to Klaipėda in the summer of 1992, the second Summer Language Institute took place. The four-year university program began in the fall of 1992 when students began first year courses. May of 1996 saw LCC's first commencement exercises. Twenty-two graduated. In summer 2010, the first Masters level program was started with a cohort of 11 students.

From 1992 to 1999 LCC rented facilities within the Klaipėda University campus. In August 1999, LCC moved to new facilities on Kretingos street in Klaipėda. Three hundred and fifty students began the 1999-2000 academic year in the new facilities. Another 150 enrolled in the English language program. Currently there are about 600 students studying at LCC.

LCC also offers a variety of evening courses in English. Each July the university presents a three-week intensive English language course for professionals, students, and secondary school students.

ACCREDITATION AND MEMBERSHIPS

In September 2000, the B.A. programs in English Language and Literature, and International Business Administration were recognized by the Lithuanian Ministry of Education. In summer 2002 the B.A. program in Evangelical Theology was recognized. In summer 2008, the B.A. program in Psychology and the M.A. program in TESOL were recognized. In summer 2014, the B.A. program in Contemporary Communication and the M.A. program in International Management were recognized. In summer 2015, the B.A. program in International Relations and Development was recognized. All undergraduate degree programs have subsequently been successfully reaccredited. LCC's accreditation status can be viewed on the website of the Ministry of Education and Science of the Republic of Lithuania. Follow the link below, select "English," "Institutions" and click "Universities" <http://www.aikos.smm.lt/aikos/index.htm>

CAMPUS FACILITIES

DEFEHR CENTRAS

DeFehr Centras buildings provide 4300 square meters of space including 12 classrooms, a library, computer laboratories, Neufeld Hall and administration and faculty offices.

BALČIŪNAI LIBRARY

The library serves as an extension of the classroom and on line learning by providing resources and services for research projects and papers, presentations and enrichment.

The library on campus provides a variety of resources, including 27,000 English volumes and textbooks, periodicals, audio-visual materials and on line databases. A computerized circulation system allows for easy searching of the holdings. The library collection is available to students during open hours. Reading rooms, 64 study carrels and alcoves adjacent to the book stacks provide quiet study space. The LCC library actively participates in the Lithuania Research Library Consortium (LMBA), cooperatively licensing most of the online databases and contributing to a library network within Lithuania. This connection links the LCC community with additional resources via the interlibrary loan service for expanded access to worldwide electronic informational resources and increased electronic library services.

To facilitate on line learning, electronic databases are available to students and faculty for research. Online learning and research resources including online textbooks and e-journals from licensed or open access databases are available to LCC students and faculty for access on a 24/7 basis. The library subscribes to EBSCO Publishing databases accessing a package of thirteen (13) databases. The following is a sample list of databases:

|--------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Academic Search Complete | Oxford Reference Online |
| • ERIC | • Sage Journals Online |
| • MasterFILE Premier | • Taylor and Francis Journals |
| • Newspaper Source | • Teacher Reference Center |

Graduate students also have remote access to library resources. This is a secure connection for LCC distant students and faculty and is activated via Remote Desktop Connection service. All graduate students are automatically enrolled and have access to this service.

COMPUTER LABORATORIES

There are two computer labs with 42 computer terminals/PCs available for students in the DeFehr academic building. There is also a Computer Lab in Neumann Hall. Network laser printers are accessible in the computer labs.

NEUFELD HALL

Neufeld Hall is a large lecture style auditorium that seats approximately 230 persons. This hall is used both as a classroom and as a venue for concerts, chapel services, and assemblies. It is furnished with audiovisual and sound equipment.

MICHEALSEN CENTRAS

Michealsen Centras is a multipurpose building on the LCC campus. It provides LCC with a venue for community building activities and events both for internal and external audiences. There is a large multipurpose gymnasium that seats approximately 1600 persons, locker rooms, a fitness room, offices, a large lobby and a cafeteria.

STUDENT RESIDENCE HALLS

LCC International University has two residence halls on campus: Neumann Hall and Enns Hall.

Neumann Hall is home to 220 students and has 11 faculty/staff apartments. This 6-storey building has a large lounge and kitchen on the first floor, which provides a venue for community events. The building also houses a chapel, a TV lounge, an art room, a study room, a bicycle storage room, and a computer lab.

Enns Hall has 140 student beds and 9 faculty/staff apartments, as well as other spaces designed for studying and community building.

INTRODUCTION

All students are welcome at LCC International University regardless of race, creed, nationality, or church tradition. The University seeks and encourages students from around the world to participate in the life of LCC. LCC enjoys an international student population that comes from over 40 countries from all around the world.

Students selected for admission are invited to attend LCC International University. Students who accept the invitation to attend agree to uphold LCC standards of conduct as described in the Student Life pages of the catalog (Section 4). In return they have the privilege of enjoying the benefits of being a part of the LCC International University community. Some of those benefits are found throughout this catalog.

Those who are invited to attend LCC but cannot with integrity uphold these standards should not accept the invitation and instead look for a learning institution more acceptable to them. By signing the study agreement, the student indicates understanding and acceptance of the school's standards of conduct.

LCC International University reserves the right to admit, re-admit or deny entrance to any student at its discretion.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

Students apply for admission by completing the application form and submitting it to the Admissions office at LCC. All complete applications received by the deadline will be considered. The application should include a transcript of the last three years of high school or high school diploma/university transcripts, the result of an English proficiency test, a copy of the student's passport, and two passport-sized pictures.

Applications for the fall and spring semester must be received at LCC by the published application deadlines so that entrance examinations can be completed in time for the beginning of classes in September or in January. Admissions staff welcomes questions about application and admission procedures.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

LCC considers students for admission with strong academic potential who are prepared to excel in a rigorous program of study. LCC evaluates applications according to each student's scholastic achievement, measured aptitude, potential for leadership, and other personal traits which indicate their ability to succeed.

Entrance requirements and a description of the application processes follow:

1. Completion of LCC Admissions Application. An applicant's answers in the application should portray a clear purpose for study at LCC International University.
2. Applicant must have a satisfactory secondary school record of achievement and submit transcripts of his/her last three years at high school or high school diploma/university transcripts. Failure to do so will result in revoking the student's admission to LCC. The average GPA (Grade Point Average) of incoming students is 8/10.
3. The Ministry of Education of Lithuania requires students who received their high school diplomas from different country than Lithuania to have academic qualification recognition. Academic qualification recognition gives an access to higher education for the purposes of further study in Lithuania. If an applicant seeks Admissions to a degree program and has an earned qualification required for the program, one has to submit the application for admissions and qualification recognition at the same time. Admissions decision will be made once the applicant's foreign qualification is evaluated. If an applicant seeks Admissions to a degree program and yet does not have an earned qualification required for the program, one is given Conditional Acceptance if all Admissions requirements are met. The conditionally admitted student is required to submit the documents for foreign qualification recognition by August 1st. In case the foreign qualification is not recognized, the admissions decision may be revoked.

4. All applicants must achieve a satisfactory score in the English proficiency test.

THE FOLLOWING TESTS ARE ACCEPTED FOR APPLICATION TO LCC INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY:

Test	Required minimum score*
TOEFL® ITP (Institutional Testing Program)*	500
TOEFL® iBT (Internet Based Test)	61
IELTS Academic (International English Language Testing System)	6.0
PTE ACADEMIC	53
PTE General Test	Level 4
CPE (Cambridge Certificate of Proficiency in English)	C
CAE (Cambridge Certificate of Advanced English)	C

 If the English language test score is below the required minimum, University offers another opportunity – a one or two-semester Prerequisite Intensive Module in English (PRIME). The purpose of PRIME is to help students improve their academic English language skills and prepare them for studies at LCC International University. To qualify for PRIME your score must be from: TOEFL ITP – 420, TOEFL iBT – 36, and IELTS – 5.5.*

The language requirement may be waived for the following reasons:

- a. An applicant is a citizen of Great Britain, Ireland, Australia, Canada, the U.S. or New Zealand.
 - b. An applicant is has studied in one of the above mentioned countries within the last 2 years and have a good academic record.
 - c. An applicant is has participated in the FLEX program.
 - d. An applicant is has graduated or will graduate from an IB school.
5. The Admissions Committee will interview applicants as part of the admissions process.
 6. Applicants are admitted based on high school grades, English proficiency test scores, and an interview score. Meeting minimum requirements does not guarantee admission to LCC.

THE ADMISSION PROCESS

The Admissions Committee reviews the applications and considers the qualifications listed above. Poor performance in one area may stop the student's application. After review, the Admissions Committee decides who to invite to LCC. Students will receive a letter indicating either their acceptance to LCC or reasons why they are not accepted.

PREREQUISITE INTENSIVE MODULE IN ENGLISH (PRIME)

PRIME provides an academic English program for incoming LCC International University students who qualify in all other ways except that their standardized English test score indicates that they would benefit from additional English instruction as they enter LCC. PRIME students have all of the rights, privileges and responsibilities of a full time LCC students.

In order to be accepted into the program, an applicant goes through the regular admissions process, submitting all the necessary documents as listed above. Once the English proficiency test result is received, the Admissions committee interviews an applicant and the admission decision will indicate whether a student is admitted to a university B.A. program or to PRIME.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

Students from other universities and colleges may apply to LCC following the guidelines below. They must submit both high school and college/university transcripts.

Transfer students may receive credit for courses taken at other accredited universities, colleges (kolegija) and theological colleges. For more information regarding the credit transfer procedures, contact the Registrar's office.

DOCUMENTATION NEEDED:

To facilitate the evaluation of a student's transfer credits, he or she will be asked to supply any or all of the following documentation:

1. an official transcript from the accredited college (kolegija) or university;
2. a reference (web link) to indicate the accredited status of the college or university;
3. an official statement from the sending college (kolegija) or university describing the credit system used and explanation of the grading system from the sending college or university;
4. an official course description for each course under consideration; any other documentation deemed necessary by the department in which the course of study is being pursued: for example, exams, research papers, original course syllabus, and other relevant documents by which the rigor of the course may be determined by the appropriate faculty or evaluator at LCC.

CREDIT TRANSFER POLICY

- Credits can be transferred for courses taken at other accredited universities, accredited colleges (kolegija) and accredited theological colleges only. In the case of theological colleges non-state accreditation agencies such as EAAA (Euro Asian Accrediting Agency) or ABHE (Association for Biblical Higher Education) are acceptable.
- A maximum of 90 ECTS credits may be accepted in transfer from an accredited university.
- A maximum of 60 ECTS credits may be accepted in transfer for students from an accredited college (kolegija) or theological institution.
- All credits that are applicable from the first B.A. degree at LCC may be accepted in transfer for LCC alumni seeking their second B.A. degree at LCC.
- All core curriculum courses and major requirements at LCC must be completed as identified in the catalog (LCC alumni seeking their second B.A. degree at LCC are exempted from taking First Year Seminar). Substitutions for core and required major courses may be accepted only with comparable syllabus and approval of appropriate Department Chair. Substitutions for major electives may be accepted with approval of appropriate Department Chair. Substitutions for module courses or electives outside major may be accepted with approval of Vice President for Academics and the Registrar.
- Students must complete 150 ECTS credits of 240 ECTS credits required at LCC for the baccalaureate degree.
- Students must complete more than 50% of credits in their major, and more than 50% credits in the module outside major at LCC.
- Credits accepted in transfer must have a grade of 6.00 (67%) (on a 10-point scale) or higher.
- 135 astronomic hours is equivalent to 6 ECTS credit course at LCC.
- The courses accepted in transfer are recorded as "T" and do not calculate into the student's GPA.

- LCC does not accept credit given by one institution for another institution's transferred credits.
- LCC reserves the right to deny credit for specific courses from any college or university, regardless of accreditation.
- This policy applies to all courses completed at other post-secondary institutions, including coursework completed as part of an international student exchange experience subsequent to enrolment at LCC.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES AND SPECIAL NEEDS

The policy provides the framework for admission practices, academic assistance, and the provision of services and support in order to ensure that all students with disabilities can have equal access to the University's programs and activities. LCC International University strives to create equal access to higher education for all individuals, to establish favorable conditions of equal opportunities for disabled people. The integration of persons with disabilities into society through higher education programs is set by certain university policies and procedure in compliance with Bologna Process 2020 Documents and National Program for Social integration of disabled people (Lithuanian Government, 2012, http://www3.lrs.lt/pls/inter3/dokpaieska.showdoc_l?p_id=437985&p_query=&p_tr2=2).

ADMISSION

LCC International University believes that all students, including students with disabilities and students with special needs should have equal opportunity to university programs and activities. Support will be specific and appropriate for each individual case. There is no separate admission process for applicants with disabilities.

Disability accommodations do not include reduced standards of academic performance, reduced standards of English language, waiver of academic courses

For further advice please contact the Admissions office by emailing admissions@lcc.lt or calling +370 46 310 460.

SERVICES AND HOUSING

The Student Life Division ensures a comfortable environment for learning and living for all students. All academic facilities are accessible for disabled students. Student Life programs and services are available for students with special needs. If special assistance is required, the Student Life staff will work with each student individually.

Both LCC residence halls are wheelchair accessible and have elevators providing access to all floors. There are 2 rooms which have been modified to accommodate wheelchairs. The housing coordinator works with each student with significant mobility limitations that require accommodation or other specific needs. DeFehr Center's first floor is wheelchair accessible and classes for students with disabilities are scheduled in such a way that allows them to access the needed facilities. Michealsen Centras is accessible for students with disabilities and is available for students for sports and leisure activities.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Upon documented verification of the disability, academic support is individualized based on the learning needs of each student. Individuals with special needs may ask for academic and technical support, registration assistance, and help for academic service.

The procedure for requesting special support includes:

1. Written application to the Academic Vice President of the University submitted through an online form <https://lcc.lt/academics/special-needs-form> by the second week of the semester. Only emergency cases will be reviewed after the second week of a semester.
2. Official verification of a status of a disability (comprehensive disability documentation).
3. Confirmation from CAS (Committee on Academic Standing) for a special needs program.
4. Meeting the representatives from CAS to discuss appropriate accommodations.
5. A memo to faculty who are involved in the student's study program. Will be sent by the Academic Vice President/Registrar.

The student is responsible for initiating further discussions with the faculty to finalize mutually agreeable plans.

Documentation is kept in the Registrar's office in the student's file and information is added to the Registry of Students with Special Needs.

A qualified student with disabilities must follow the required procedures for requesting special support in order to ensure equitable participation in an education program or activity. Academic support is provided for those students who require additional assistance. Academic accommodations may include items such as:

- Individual time schedule
- Tutoring support
- Accommodations related to testing and assessment
- Length of studying

For further information about special academic possibilities for students with disabilities please notify the Vice President for Academics.

Accommodating student's special needs will not be granted retroactively.

GUEST STUDENTS

Guest students can enroll in up to four courses without enrolling in the four-year program. No more than two courses may be taken in one semester. After four courses have been taken, the student may apply for admission into the four-year program if they wish to continue studying at LCC. Admission as a guest student is at the discretion of the Registrar, and is based on the student's academic qualifications, demonstrated English proficiency, and available space in classes. No visas will be processed for the guest students.

SECOND B.A. DEGREE FOR LCC ALUMNI

LCC alumni who have earned their first B.A. degree at LCC might enroll into the second B.A. degree at LCC. Admission as LCC alumni for the second B.A. degree is at the discretion of the Registrar, and is based on the student's written request and other documentation. For more information please contact LCC Registrar at registrar@lcc.lt.

03 STUDENT FINANCIAL SERVICES

- Introduction
- General Financial Aid Policies
- Paying for LCC
- Types of Financial Aid
- Tuition and Fees

The following information regarding financial aid, tuition, and fees is accurate at the time of the catalog printing, but is subject to change due to changing state regulations and institutional policies and budgetary constraints. For the most current information, please refer to the tuition fees and aid section on our website at <https://lcc.lt/tuition-and-fees> or contact the Student Financial Services Office.

INTRODUCTION

The LCC International University Student Financial Services Office serves LCC students by assisting in the financial aid application process, awarding/packaging institutional and external programs of student assistance, and providing financial aid counseling.

The philosophy of the Student Financial Services office is to make attendance at LCC possible for all students, regardless of their families' financial circumstances. We seek to do this by developing a partnership with parents, students and LCC. We expect parents to contribute all they reasonably can, we aim to provide students some work opportunities, and LCC will seek to provide additional support. In this way the cost of a LCC education should be within reach for students.

Tuition charges and other fees help the university maintain and develop facilities, equipment, services and educational opportunities. Donations of time from LCC staff/faculty and money from individuals and organizations within North America and across Europe make it possible for LCC to keep fees low. Student fees are listed below. Students must recognize that planning and providing for financial obligations are a part of their personal growth and development.

GENERAL FINANCIAL AID POLICIES

LCC provides aid to students who make satisfactory progress toward a degree and demonstrate financial need. Financial aid is based on the availability of funds. LCC assists students primarily in covering tuition costs. The amount and type of aid students receive is reviewed annually. However, adjustments may be made during the year if there are significant changes in family resources or student budgets.

- Each year students must reapply for financial aid by submitting a Financial Aid application. Details concerning application are publicized by the Student Financial Services office. Aid may increase or decrease in individual cases depending on changes in a family's financial circumstances and student's cumulative GPA. The most common reasons for award revisions are family financial problems such as loss of income or emergency expenses, and a shortfall in student summer savings.
- The students and their families are expected to assume the primary responsibility for meeting educational expenses. The amount payable is determined using the information the student is asked to submit in the Financial Aid application. A student's demonstrated financial need is determined by subtracting the expected family contribution from the total studying cost for the specific academic year.
- The Student Financial Services office analyzes the student's financial need and extends an offer of financial assistance. All sources of available aid – need based aid, scholarships, grants, government loans, and student employment - are considered in making this offer.

Student can receive financial grants up to four years or up to 8 semesters at LCC. If students study longer, take academic leave, or take a second major, they must find their own financing opportunities.

PROCEDURAL POLICIES

1. All financial aid is applied to a student's account over two semesters, fall and spring.
2. Financial aid is applied for 60 ECTS credits per academic year. If student takes more than 60 ECTS credits per academic year the award will not be increased.

3. Students must be enrolled in at least 24 ECTS credits per semester to receive financial aid. If a student enrolls in less than 24 ECTS credits in either semester, they will not receive the aid for that semester.
4. Financial aid cannot be applied to Summer Session courses.
5. Students will receive only one financial grant. If a student qualifies for more than one, they will receive the one with the highest monetary value, and the other grant will go to the next student who qualifies (exceptions are made for Sibling Grant).
6. If a student receiving financial aid is placed on probation after the fall semester, their aid allocation for the spring semester is withdrawn.
7. If a student receiving a financial aid is placed on probation after the spring semester, their award allocated for the fall semester is withdrawn. However, the amount may be reinstated for the next spring semester if they increase their GPA to the level of academic good standing.
8. If a student receiving any financial aid decides to take an academic leave, they lose the aid. The student may apply for financial aid upon re-entry.
9. The maximum financial aid amount that a student can receive is 90% tuition discount (all financial aid amounts summed up). This does not apply to Kenneth & Helen Penner and President's Leadership Scholarships.
10. Financial Aid is not applied for the retaking a failed course "F". Receiving an "F" for a course might affect a student's satisfactory academic progress and eligibility to receive financial aid in the future.
11. Students receiving financial aid that withdraw or stop attending classes, in most cases, will be required to return financial aid received.

PAYING FOR LCC

Planning how to pay for LCC is important for everyone. Some students will apply for financial aid. Other students may have adequate resources but they are worried about paying large university bills over a short period of time.

There are two key elements for all students to consider when planning how to pay for an LCC education: estimating costs and examining family resources. The first step is to make a realistic estimate of the total cost of attending university, based on current tuition fees and expenses.

With an estimate of LCC expenses in mind, the next step is to see how much the family can contribute. To do this, students should:

1. Divide their estimated LCC costs by 12 months in order to determine their monthly costs.
2. Review how much of this monthly payment might come from parental income and assets, their own savings or earnings, and other resources, such as loans or gifts from relatives.
3. Based on this comparison between costs and available resources, students are encouraged to apply for financial aid if they are unable to cover expenses.

TYPES OF FINANCIAL AID

The basic types of financial aid can be divided into three categories: financial aid (need based aid, merit based grants and scholarships, and other grants and scholarships), government loans, and employment.

1. Financial aid does not require repayment. To qualify for need based aid, a student is required to submit a Need Based Aid application. The deadline for the application and supporting documents for the returning students is November 15.
2. Government loans must be repaid, in a year after the student leaves LCC.
3. Employment allows the student to earn money for personal and other expenses.

LCC-FUNDED AID

LCC offers various types of grants to prospective and returning students. These are:

Need Based Aid

Need Based Aid

Need Based Aid is given to students based on their financial need. Financial need is determined by the financial situation of the student and their family.

Students must complete a Need Based Aid application form and submit it along with other necessary documents.

The students must be enrolled in full time BA program and have finished local high school in Georgia. All incoming freshmen who meet the above criteria are guaranteed an automatic award of this grant.

EXTERNALLY FUNDED AWARDS

Employment

Students have some opportunities for employment. For more information about job opportunities both on and off campus, contact the Student Support and Career Development Center at LCC (cdc@lcc.lt).

Loans

The Lithuanian government distributes over 4 million EUR in student loans annually. For more information on government student loans visit www.vsf.lt or contact the SFS office (sfs@lcc.lt).

Income Tax Benefit

According to the Resident Income Tax legislation (Article 21, part 1.4 and 2), amounts paid for studies can be deducted from the taxable income and thus decrease the income tax for residents. If a person whose studies are being paid for is under 26 years old and tuition cannot be deducted from his/her taxable income, the tuition can be deducted from the taxable income of one of his/her parents/foster parents. If a loan is taken to pay for studies, the amounts that can be deducted are the amounts repaid. The tuition is to be deducted in the annual income declaration.

The highest net benefit of this deduction is income tax savings amounting to 15% of tuition. For more information on income tax benefit visit www.vmi.lt.

TUITION AND FEES

TUITION

Tuition fees are set annually by LCC's Board of Directors and are no less than 2% above inflation. The fee structure takes into consideration the costs of university operations, the amount of donation support received by LCC, and the fees charged by other academic institutions. A two-tier fee structure is based on the Gross National Product of the student's country of citizenship. Tuition is based on the number of credit hours taken. See the LCC website (www.lcc.lt) for current-year tuition and fees.

The program fee for North American students planning to spend a semester at LCC is posted on the Study Abroad website. For more information please contact LCC's Center for International Education office.

Refer to Student Handbook and to the tuition fees and aid section on our website <https://lcc.lt/tuition-and-fees> for other costs and fees.

PAYMENT OPTIONS AND DEADLINES

LCC provides students with two payment options:

- Students may pay their semester tuition and housing fees in full no later than August 20, 2019 (Fall semester) and December 20, 2019 (Spring semester).
- Students may also choose the Payment Schedule option, which allows for covering semester tuition and housing fees in three equal installments. The 17 EUR Payment Schedule fee is payable with the first installment. Students who choose this payment option are required to fill in an online Payment Schedule Registration Form no later than August 1, 2019/ December 1, 2019. Payment Schedule due dates are the following:

Due dates for Fall

August 15
September 15
October 15

Due dates for Spring 2020

December, 15
January 15
February 15

Late Payment Schedule registration forms require a 23 EUR Payment Schedule fee.

Students are required to follow established deadlines and pay their fees on time. If LCC does not receive a payment by the required deadline, the next day (Fall semester – August 21, Spring semester – December 21) a Late Payment Fee of 60 EUR will be charged to the student's account. Moreover, students are automatically signed up for the Debt Contract (administrative fee 23 EUR). If the payment is not received by the first day of classes, the students will be withdrawn from that semester's class lists. The student will be able to register and attend classes only when all fees are paid. Overdue amounts are subject to a 3% monthly late fee.

If a student did not register during the registration week and want to register during the Add/Drop week, first he/she needs to bring the payment slip to the Registrar office showing the proof of payment for upcoming semester. Only then student will be allowed to proceed with registration.

Debts

Any outstanding balances are subject to 3% monthly interest and students are not permitted to attend classes. If a student did not make necessary and timely payments to the student account (for tuition, housing, insurance, student card and other fees) the following penalties result:

- No registration for future semesters
- Transcripts are not released if requested
- Student is does not receive semester grade reports

Financial Statements

Financial statements are issued on August 6 for fall semester and December 6 for spring semester. Updated statements after the Add/Drop week are issued on the following Tuesday after the Add/Dropp week. Also, financial statements are issued each month for students who owe a balance or have had transactions to their account during that billing cycle. Any new charges that may occur are due two weeks after the account is billed. Full account information is available through the student portal and includes current statements.

LCC International University uses the @students.lcc.lt student email address to communicate, and students are responsible to check their LCC email account regularly as they miss important information if they do not do so.

TUITION AND HOUSING REFUND POLICY

If students wish to withdraw from a course they must officially withdraw from that course after the first day of classes. See the Registrar for details on withdrawing from a course. The schedule below shows the financial consequences of withdrawing. Tuition refunds are based on the day that the course withdrawal process is completed by the student.

REFUND SCHEDULE FOR FALL AND SPRING SEMESTERS

Through the 7th calendar day of the semester	100%
Through the 8th - 21st calendar day of the semester	50%
Through the 22nd - 35th calendar day of the semester	25%
After the 35th calendar day of the class	0%

REFUND SCHEDULE FOR SUMMER SESSION

Through the 1st calendar day of the class	100%
Through the 2nd - 7th calendar day of the class	50%
After the 7th calendar day of the class	0%

WITHDRAWINF FROM A (ALL) COURSE(S)

In case of withdrawal from the University, refunds of student charges for tuition and housing are based on the refund schedule. Basic fees are nonrefundable. No refund will be given for withdrawals after 35th calendar day of the semester for fall and spring semesters, and after 7th calendar day of the class for the summer semester.

Withdrawing from a course(s) will affect your Financial Aid. Before withdrawing or stopping to attend course(s), the student should be aware of the proper procedures for withdrawing from course(s) and the consequences of withdrawing or stopping the attendance of a course(s). The student must inform Student Financial Services, inquire about the refund schedule and how it is going to affect their financial account before starting the withdrawal process. Official withdrawal is the responsibility of the student.

Students receiving financial aid that withdraw or stop attending classes, in most cases, will be required to return financial aid received.

TERMINOLOGY

Application Fee

An application fee must accompany all applications for the first year program and PRIME. This fee is non-refundable.

Summer Session Deposit

A non-refundable deposit for each course is due one week following summer registration for all summer session courses. This deposit will be credited to the student's account.

Housing Deposits

In order to secure a place in the residence hall, all students are required to pay a 60 EUR deposit prior to Fall and Spring housing registration. All housing deposits are credited to the student's account. Fall and Spring housing deposits are non-refundable.

Auditing Fee

Students who want to audit course (attend a course without credit) will be charged 50% tuition.

Print/Copy Card Fee

To print or copy on campus, students must use a print card. Students can purchase print cards in the library. The fee is non-refundable.

Workbook Fee

If a class uses workbooks, a fee will be charged for the workbook, which then becomes the property of the student.

Book Replacement Fee

LCC students borrow textbooks each semester; this helps to defer costs. Lost or damaged textbooks or library books will result in a charge for the full replacement value of the book. The head librarian will determine if a book is damaged and the appropriate fee. The registrar's office will withhold grades until the books are returned or the fee is paid.

Library Fines

Overdue library books will be charged a fee based on the number of days late. See the LCC web site for more information about library fines.

Payment Schedule

Students wishing to pay their fees over the semester rather than paying the full sum at the beginning of the semester may request to follow the deferred payment schedule. There is a non-refundable fee of 17 EUR for the Payment Schedule. Payment plan splits the semester payment into three equal monthly payments.

Overdue Fees

Overdue accounts will be charged three percent (3%) interest per month on the outstanding payment amount.

Late Payment Fee

Students are required to follow established deadlines and pay their fees on time. If LCC does not receive a payment for the Fall and Spring semester by the required deadline, a Late Payment Fee of 60 EUR will be charged to the student's account.

Transcript Fee

Students may request a copy of their transcript. Transcripts are issued within 3 days; the fee for transcripts is 2.50 EUR if mailing is not required or 6 EUR if mailing is required. The transcripts can be ordered at <https://lcc.lt/academics/transcript-request>. LCC will withhold transcripts if financial fees, library fines, or any other obligations are not met.

Graduation Fee

The graduation fee for students participating in the commencement ceremonies is 40 EUR.

Housing Fee

Housing fees are set annually by LCC's Board of Directors. Housing fees include the cost of utilities and are based on occupancy of four students per room. If there is space available and students request to live in a room with less than full capacity, they will be required to pay the total fees for the room.

Damage Deposit

A damage deposit is charged to all residence occupants. This deposit is returned in full when the student moves out, after a room inspection, if there has been no excessive damage to the room.

Refund Policy

Students who wish to move out of the LCC residence hall must complete a Move In/Move Out form, available from Resident Directors. Students who voluntarily move out of the residence hall may not receive any refund from their housing fees. Written appeals requesting a refund may be made to the Resident Directors.

Financial Deadlines

Deadlines are established according to the specifics of the student's payment schedule. In general, all previous semester course fees must be paid or arranged for prior to a student being admitted to classes in a new semester. See the LCC web site and student handbook for more information about exact deadlines.

LCC Housing Standards

STUDENT LIFE MISSION STATEMENT

The Student Life division facilitates holistic student education through the practice of an authentic Christian learning community.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

COMMUNITY LIFE

The Community Life Department seeks to promote the development of students through interpersonal, community building and life skill learning opportunities. Community Life is responsible for:

- Residence Life & Student Housing - LCC's Residence life program is an important part of student life at LCC and surrounds the experience of living "on-campus". We know that MUCH more than sleeping happens in our halls – create, engage, relate, It is a place that creates a residential community of many cultures and backgrounds where conversation and interaction lead to learning, lifelong friendships and a lot of fun!
- Intercultural Education. There are multiple nations represented in the student body. The Intercultural Education facilitates multicultural education and helps international students integrate to LCC and explore Lithuanian culture. It also runs a Community Multicultural Awareness Program (CMAP) where LCC students become educators to local high school students on global citizenship.
- Psychological counseling. Our counselor provides confidential counseling and referral services to students. Issues dealt with in counseling range from depression, anxiety, loss of a friend or loved one, stress, and loneliness. The counselor partners with psychological services in the Klaipėda community on issues beyond the scope of services provided by LCC.

STUDENT SUPPORT & CAREER DEVELOPMENT

This department seeks to provide essential student support and services, migration support and promote student learning and competencies through skill building, self-knowledge and leadership and service opportunities. The services lodged here are:

- Career Development – department staff provides a host of learning opportunities, employment information and consulting services to students, alumni and employers through regular training events such seminars, workshops, and individual counseling.
- Migration Support – Migration Coordinator provides essential migration support to international students and works closely with office staff to ensure compliance with national and international laws on mobility.
- Medical assistance – Student Life Office Assistant provides assistance on using health insurance as well as getting medical help as needed.
- Student Success – The Student Success Center (SSC) provides assistance to LCC International University students to thrive academically and equips them to take responsibility for their education and learning. Student Success Center oversees Freshmen Orientation and First year seminar which are designed to help students make a smooth transition to university life. Orientation is a three-day program offered at the beginning of the semester.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT – Students participating in the leadership development program experience working in a team and learn how to promote positive change for others and for society.

There is also an active Student Council team which acts as a liaison between students and LCC administration.

SPIRITUAL LIFE

The Spiritual Life department provides opportunities for students to explore faith questions or grow in their Christian faith. While no student is required to believe in God, at LCC we believe that the love of Jesus transforms all aspects of our lives. Through Chapel, Bible studies, retreats and other events, students are invited to consider who Jesus is and how faith in God reshapes our experience in the world.

STUDENT LIFE GOOD STANDING

Our mission in Student Life is to facilitate holistic student education through the practice of an authentic Christian learning community. If you are not honoring good standing expectations, disciplinary actions may be taken by Student Life. The type of action depends upon the seriousness of the offense, willingness to take responsibility for personal actions and attitude, and it may vary from student to student. Every opportunity is explored to contribute to the student's personal growth and success, while seeking to maintain a healthy living and learning environment. The goal of the restoration process is to help students develop in character, personality, and ability.

Violations of Student Life Good Standing expectations involve choices that violate the spirit of the principles above and may involve harm to an individual or to the larger LCC community. A full description of student expectations is outlined in the LCC Student Handbook.

Threats, Assault or Harassment

LCC International University seeks to pursue a safe workplace/place of study through relationships that are respectful, mutual, authentic, and based on trust. It is the policy that no member of the community - students, faculty, administrators, staff, or third parties - may harass any other member of the community. All cases of harassment and assault (physical and/or sexual) will be dealt with severely.

GRADUATE PROGRAMS

LCC offers an M.A. degree in TESOL and an M.A. degree in International Management. Further information about these programs is available on LCC website <https://lcc.lt/>

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

The undergraduate programs of LCC International University are organized into departments:

- International Business Administration
- English
- Communication
- Lithuanian Studies
- Psychology
- International Relations and Development
- Theology

LCC offers the following undergraduate programs of study: International Business Administration, English Language and Literature, Contemporary Communication, Evangelical Theology, Psychology and International Relations and Development. All of these programs are recognized by the Lithuanian Ministry of Education as B.A. degrees. The specific requirements for each major are described in Section 7.

MAJOR

All students declare their study program (major) during their admission to LCC. Students may change study programs (majors), but should work closely with their academic advisor and the Registrar when doing so. Careful planning is necessary to be sure that the student will have enough credits within the major to graduate. Details of each of the Major study programs, including required module options within the major, are listed in the descriptions of the study programs in Section 7 of this catalog.

PREREQUISITE INTENSIVE MODULE IN ENGLISH (PRIME)

LCC International University's Prerequisite Intensive Module in English (PRIME) provides an academic English program for incoming students who qualify through the Admissions process in all ways except that these students would benefit from additional English instruction as they enter LCC. These students attend classes which are designed specifically for academic purposes while building English skills in grammar, reading, writing, speaking, and listening. Prospective LCC students from any country are invited to participate. Students are normally enrolled in PRIME for two semesters. PRIME students have all of the rights, privileges and responsibilities of full-time LCC students.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Graduation requirements from any B.A. program are:

- Complete all core curriculum requirements
- Complete all major program requirements
- Earn a total of at least 240 ECTS credits
- Maintain a minimum cumulative grade-point average (GPA) of 6.00
- Complete the minimum upper-division requirements of 78 ECTS credits
- Complete a final project during the last year
- Complete all program requirements within a seven (7) year period

The academic requirements found in the catalog at the time a student is accepted into LCC are applicable for the student's entire course of study. Students have final responsibility for meeting all graduation requirements.

GRADUATION

We celebrate with students when they reach the end of their programs as they are ready to transition to graduate schools or employment. LCC hosts two graduation ceremonies for the undergraduate students, at the end of the fall semester and the end of the spring semester. While LCC makes every effort to assist students in meeting academic requirements, the final responsibility for meeting all academic and graduation requirements rests with each student.

All graduating students must complete a Declaration of Intent to Graduate form and return it to the Registrar in the middle of November for fall graduation and after registration for Summer courses is complete (by the end of February) for spring graduation.

COMMENCEMENT

Commencement is held in December or May for students completing the four-year program. Diplomas are issued to graduates after completion of their courses. Students will receive a diploma dated at the end of the semester in which courses are completed. Diplomas are withheld from graduates who have any financial or other obligations.

Attendance at graduation ceremonies is encouraged for all students completing program requirements by the end of the term. Students who have up to 12 ECTS credits to complete after spring semester, and will complete them by August, may also participate in graduation ceremony in May. Requests for special permission to participate must be received by the Registrar by the end of February.

HONORS

LCC awards academic honors to students who demonstrate superior scholastic achievement and who, upon completion of studies, have taken at least 150 credits at LCC. Honors are awarded as follows:

Cum Laude: Cumulative GPA of 9.20 - 9.59
 Magna Cum Laude: Cumulative GPA of 9.60 - 9.79
 Summa Cum Laude: Cumulative GPA of 9.80 - 10.00

Honors are indicated on the diploma supplement.

ADDITIONAL STUDIES FOR GRADUATES

An LCC graduate may enroll in an additional major. The graduate must fulfill the requirements of the particular study program, including the core curriculum requirements, in place when re-enrolling.

STUDENT CLASSIFICATION

Students are classified according to their year of study. The year is determined by the number of credits the student has completed.

PRIME	Student enrolled in any PRIME classes
Freshman	Student enrolled in a four-year BA program, 0-56 ECTS credits
Sophomore	Student enrolled in a four-year BA program, 57-116 ECTS credits
Junior	Student enrolled in a four-year BA program, 117-176 ECTS credits
Senior	Student enrolled in a four-year BA program, 177-240 credits
Erasmus	Student from Erasmus partner university
International Exchange	Student from non-Erasmus partner university
Study Abroad	Student from North American partner university

ACADEMIC ADVISING

The goal of academic advising is to assist students in their pursuit of meaningful educational programs that will help them identify and fulfill their educational goals, including and career aspirations. Advising helps students:

- Clarify life goals
- Develop suitable educational plans
- Select appropriate courses and/or educational experiences
- Maintain good academic standing status

Good academic advising can help the student bridge the gaps between personal, academic, and career requirements. An advisor is a faculty/staff member assigned to students. The role of the advisor is very important in the registration process. The advisor is to verify that students take courses with the correct prerequisites and in the recommended sequence. The advisor is available to answer any questions related to degree requirements. However, students have the ultimate responsibility for their academic decisions.

COURSES & CREDIT HOURS

LCC uses the European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (ECTS). All references to credits in this catalog use the ECTS system. For purposes of comparison, 1 ECTS equals 0.5 North American credits.

Students must earn at least 240 credits to complete the B.A. degree requirements. Students usually earn 60 ECTS credits per year.

ECTS	Astronomic Hours*	Academic Hours	North American Credits
1 ECTS	22.5 (7.5 in-class + 15 independent work)	30 (10 in-class + 20 independent work)	0.5
3 ECTS	67.5 (22.5 in-class + 45 independent work)	90 (30 in-class + 60 independent work)	1.5
6 ECTS	135 (45 in-class + 90 independent work)	180 (60 in-class + 120 independent work)	3

*1 astronomic hour=60 minutes.

1 academic hour=45 minutes.

Based on ECTS Users' Guide http://ec.europa.eu/education/tools/docs/ects-guide_en.pdf p. 16

"student workload ranges from 1500 to 1800 hours for an academic year, whereby one credit corresponds to 25 to 30 hours of work".

1 ECTS credit at LCC International University corresponds to 30 academic hours. Thus, student load work makes 1800 academic hours per 60 ECTS.

COURSE LOAD

In the fall and spring semesters, the normal academic load is 30 ECTS credits per semester. When a student takes 24 or more ECTS credits in a semester, the student is considered to be a full-time student. Full-time students may take 33-36 ECTS credits per semester if their GPA was 7.00 or greater in the previous semester. When a student is taking fewer than 24 ECTS credits per semester, the student is considered a part-time student.

Students may take up to 18 ECTS credits in summer sessions.

Full-time PRIME students take 9 ECTS credits per semester.

COURSE IDENTIFICATION SYSTEM

The three letters at the beginning of the course number indicate the subject area:

ACC	Accounting
ART	Art
BIB	Bible
BUS	Business
CIS	Computer Information Systems
CLM	Christian Life & Ministry
COM	Communication
CST	Conflict Studies
ECO	Economics
ENG	English
GER	German
HIS	History
IDS	Inter-disciplinary Studies
IRD	International Relations and Development
LTH	Lithuanian
MTH	Mathematics
NAS	Natural Sciences
PHI	Philosophy
PME	Prerequisite Intensive Module in English
PSY	Psychology
REL	Religion
SOC	Sociology
THE	Theology

The three digits of a course number indicate the academic level of each course:

-100-299 courses are lower division courses which are general and introductory. They provide a foundation for advanced work.

-300-499 courses are upper division courses which assume prior knowledge in the subject, and offer more advanced or specific content than lower division courses. Upper division courses typically require prior completion of less advanced courses. Certain upper division courses require prerequisites.

ACADEMIC ADMINISTRATION

ACADEMIC VICE PRESIDENT

The Academic Vice President works with the Department Chairpersons and the faculty, and gives leadership to the overall academic program.

ASSOCIATE DEANS

The Associate Deans work with academic program recognition and accreditation, Ministry of Education regulations, EU partnerships, academic advising, as well as relationships with other area universities.

DEPARTMENT CHAIRPERSONS AND PROGRAM DIRECTORS

The Department Chairpersons and Program Directors give leadership to the programs within their departments, including faculty recruitment and curriculum development.

REGISTRAR

The Registrar, together with Department Chairpersons and Program Directors, provides a program plan (academic progress report) for all students, indicating the course requirements necessary to graduate.

The Registrar is also available to interpret policies and explain academic requirements and procedures.

The Registrar handles registration, all student records, transcripts, diplomas, and diploma supplements. The Registrar functions as the ECTS institutional coordinator.

ACADEMIC CALENDAR

FALL AND SPRING SEMESTERS

Fall and spring semesters are 16 weeks in length with 14 weeks of classes, one week for a mid-semester break and one week at the end of the semester for final examinations.

Most classes meet for 60 minutes three days a week (Monday, Wednesday and Friday) or 90 minutes twice a week (Tuesday and Thursday.) Most three credit classes meet for 90 minutes per week.

Academic calendar requirements:

- Each semester must include 15 full weeks plus final exams
- Classes - generally begin on September 1
- Fall break includes the November 1 holiday
- The spring semester - begins on the 2nd Monday of the new year
- Spring break includes the March 11 holiday

MAY, JUNE AND JULY SUMMER SESSIONS

Usually summer sessions are intense three-week optional sessions with most courses meeting Monday through Friday for three clock hours each day.

06 ACADEMIC POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Registration
Classes and Courses
Academic Integrity
Academic Integrity Policy
Grades
Academic Standing
Discontinuing Studies
Prior Learning Assessment

Students are responsible for the knowledge and application of all academic policies.

REGISTRATION

Registration gives students a chance to choose their courses for the next semester. Those choices are important and students should meet with their academic advisor as they select courses. All students receive all registration information by LCC email after the midterm break. All students are expected to register for classes during the registration period. Students register on <http://portal.lcc.lt>. Registration is complete only when financial arrangements and other pertinent matters such as timetables are finalized. If students do not register during the registration period, they may register during Add/Drop week after full payment for the upcoming semester is made.

The Registrar assigns courses to all incoming students. Incoming students are assigned to courses which are required of all students and are pre-requisites for advanced courses. Registration confirmation forms are presented during new student orientation for all freshmen.

Classes are open to all students provided that they meet the prerequisite requirements and space is available. In some cases the size of a class may be limited because of the nature of the course material. Preference may be given to juniors and seniors or students whose study programs require particular courses.

Academic advisors are available for counsel and the Registrar is available to assist in any course changes.

Any changes in registration or course offerings are communicated by LCC email.

ATTENDANCE

Classroom interaction is critical to the learning process. Language and communication skills, together with critical thinking and problem solving skills, are greatly enhanced through active participation in a classroom environment. Therefore, in the interests of achieving these and the larger goals of LCC (such as the development of a thoughtful citizen, of character and a Christian worldview), students are required to attend classes for which they are registered.

ABSENCE PENALTY

Circumstances that result in more than 3 hours of absences in a 6 ECTS credits course, or 1.5 hours or more in a 3 ECTS credits course, are subject to a penalty as outlined on the course syllabus up to a maximum of 15% of the final grade.

Absence is no reason for late submission of assignments or an expectation of make-up tests. Faculty members exercise their own discretion with regards to penalty in such cases. Penalties may range from refusal to accept late materials to a late grade penalty. Faculty will be expected to follow the policy printed on their course syllabus.

The student is responsible for all assignments and homework missed while being absent. Students are required to submit the assignments on time otherwise agree with a faculty member. Moreover, LCC faculty are not required to arrange for any missed presentations, tests, exams or any other activities.

EXCUSED ABSENCE:

A student may exceed the limit of absences without academic penalty in case of the following:

- a) Attendance at a conference/academic competition approved by the Chair of the academic program the student is enrolled in
- b) Participation in study fairs in Vilnius and Kaunas approved by the Academic Vice President

- c) Participation in a competition on an approved LCC International University athletic team
- d) Extended medical or psychological illness (3 or more consecutive class hours in a particular course) with a provision of an official doctor's notice
- e) Death of an immediate family member

In order to receive excused absence for these occurrences the student is required to collect an Excused Absence form available online at <https://lcc.lt/academics/forms-requests> or from the Registrar's office, complete it and provide supporting documentation (if necessary). This form is to be signed (approved) by the Chair of the academic program or Program Director (PRIME) the student is enrolled in and then presented to each of the student's instructors for initial where an excused absence is to be recognized. In case of participation in study fairs in Vilnius and Kaunas the form is to be signed by Academic Vice President and then presented to each of the student's instructors for initial where an excused absence is to be recognized. The completed signed and initialed form is to be returned to the Registrar's office.

A student may exceed the limit of absences without academic penalty in case of the following:

- f) Attendance at a conference/academic competition approved by the Chair of the academic program the student is enrolled in
- g) Participation in study fairs in Vilnius and Kaunas approved by the Academic Vice President
- h) Participation in a competition on an approved LCC International University athletic team
- i) Extended medical or psychological illness (3 or more consecutive class hours in a particular course) with a provision of an official doctor's notice
- j) Death of an immediate family member

In order to receive excused absence for these occurrences the student is required to collect an Excused Absence form available online at <https://lcc.lt/academics/forms-requests> or from the Registrar's office, complete it and provide supporting documentation (if necessary). This form is to be signed (approved) by the Chair of the academic program or Program Director (IRD, PRIME) the student is enrolled in and then presented to each of the student's instructors for initial where an excused absence is to be recognized. The completed signed and initialed form is to be returned to the Registrar's office.

There are no excused absences from scheduled examinations. (See Final Examination section.)

LATE ARRIVAL

In order to facilitate the learning process, all students are expected to attend classes on the first day of each semester. This policy addresses exceptional cases (i.e. summer employment), when students are unable to arrive on time to class. All students must register according to the registration schedule. All students must pay for courses according to the payment schedule.

In cases when registered students cannot attend some/ all of the classes in the first week of the semester, they must inform the Registrar's office one month before the start of the semester. Students must complete the Late Arrival Request form <https://lcc.lt/academics/late-arrival-request>. In these cases, students must arrive before or on Monday of the second week of classes. However, absences for these late students count as "unexcused absences."

In cases when registered students are unable to attend some or all of the classes in the second week of the semester, they must appeal to the Academic Vice President at least three (3) months before the start of the semester. Students must complete the Late Arrival Request form <https://lcc.lt/academics/late-arrival-request> including an appeal letter. For example, when students sign a job contract (typically in the spring), they must first ensure that the dates of the job contract allow them to arrive on time to classes or they are required to appeal to the Academic Vice President. The Academic Vice President may request additional documentation prior to making the decision. The appeal may be granted or the appeal may be denied.

If the appeal is granted, the student may arrive late and maintain their place in the course. However, absences for late students count as "unexcused absences." In this case, the student will only be allowed to make up any missed work/ tests in the classes at the instructor's discretion.

If the appeal is denied and the student plans to arrive later than the first week of classes, the student is encouraged to change their arrival plans, request an academic leave or they will be withdrawn from LCC. In this case, the student loses their student status, and, in the case of international students, their visa/ TRP will be revoked.

If a student has not submitted a Late Arrival Request form and they do not attend classes during the first week, students forfeit their place in the course, they will be withdrawn from LCC. In this case, the student loses their student status, and, in the case of international students, their visa/ TRP will be revoked.

Unusual circumstances or situations will be handled on a case by case basis by the Academic Vice President.

Because of the rapid pace of the May, June, and July sessions, each day of those sessions should be understood as one weeks' worth of classes in regard to the policy above.

CLASS CANCELLATION

When it is necessary for an instructor to cancel a class due to illness or unforeseen emergency, students will be notified by email or through Moodle as soon as possible. Department chairs will post a notice on the classroom door.

ADDING, DROPPING, WITHDRAWING

During the fall and spring semester, a student may add and drop courses without penalty only during the first week of the semester. A student may withdraw from a course without academic penalty from the eighth to the thirty-fifth calendar day of the semester. After the thirty-fifth calendar day, a student may withdraw from a course but will earn a grade of WF, equivalent to a 0(F).

During Summer Session, a student may add or drop courses only during the first day of the session. A student may withdraw from a course without academic penalty from the second to the seventh calendar day of the session. After the seventh day, a student may withdraw from a course, but will earn a grade of WF, equivalent to a 0(F).

All requests for adding, dropping, or withdrawing from courses must be submitted to the Registrar in writing using the Add/Drop Form. The academic advisor's signature is required. See the Financial Section for financial implications of dropping a course.

INDEPENDENT STUDY

Independent study allows students to explore academic areas of special interest not normally provided by the existing curriculum. Independent study courses will normally be available only to fourth year students. A maximum of 4 courses (24 ECTS credits) can be earned through independent study, with no more than one course (6 ECTS credits) per semester.

If an instructor with the appropriate specialization agrees, the student and instructor complete an Independent Study form, available from the Registrar, and a syllabus. Independent Study form must have the approval of both the Department Chairperson and Academic Vice President prior to registration and be submitted to the Registrar no later than the end of the Add/Drop period within the semester.

AUDIT

Students may audit a course other than in the core curriculum or in his/her major if space is available in the class and the instructor gives written approval on the Add/Drop form. No credit is given for audited courses. Only currently enrolled students, guest students and alumni may audit a class. With the instructor's approval, students may change status from audit to credit or credit to audit during the Add/Drop period of the semester.

Students who audit a course are expected to attend a minimum of half the classes but are not required to do the course work or take any exam in the course. If a student auditing a course completes the assignments, the instructor is not obligated to read or correct them. Auditing students will be required to pay 50% tuition for the class. When the course is completed, the audited course is noted on the student's transcript. In a case of less than 50% attendance "AU" is changed to "W" (withdrawal) that is also reflected on student's transcript.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY

Students are responsible for all courses in which they have registered. Students who fail to attend a course in which they are registered, without officially dropping or withdrawing from the course, receive a 0(F) for the course, and will receive no refund for the course. A student who does not enroll within the Add/Drop period will be considered withdrawn. Students who attend a class without being registered for that class will not earn any credits for the class.

MID-SEMESTER WARNINGS

Mid-semester warnings are given in order to inform students and their academic advisors about academic concerns. This gives students an opportunity to improve their academic standing.

- Freshmen - All first year students will receive mid-semester grades after midterm during first semester. The instructor should forward these grades to the Registrar's office. These grades will be sent to Student Success Center Coordinator for individual student conferences.
- PRIME students - All PRIME students will receive mid-semester grades after midterm during first and second semester. The instructor should forward these grades to the Registrar's office. These grades will be sent to PRIME Director for individual student conferences.
- Students on Academic Probation - Mid-semester grades for all students on academic contract will be requested from instructors by the Registrar's office each semester. These grades will be given to the students, their advisors and Student Success Center Coordinator. Students who are in danger of failing are encouraged to meet with their instructors and their advisors in order to find ways to improve their academic standing.

FINAL EXAMINATIONS

The course syllabus provided during the first week of class states the plans and requirements for the course. The final examination schedule is published for students at least one month before finals and all examinations are taken at the times indicated.

There are no excused absences from scheduled examinations. Students must plan to be present at the examination at the scheduled time and place. Faculty members are not required to prepare special examinations for those who miss the examination for any reason. If an individual faculty member agrees to arrange for an alternate examination schedule a reduction of up to one point lower grade will normally be assigned to the examination by the instructor.

FINAL EXAM RETAKE POLICY

LCC International University's examination retake policy is limited to final examination retakes which are designed to solely address the needs of students who have failed a course. Furthermore, the final examination retake must afford enough points/percentage for achieving an acceptable revised course grade.

In light of how most LCC professors offer students a variety of ways throughout an entire semester to achieve an acceptable grade, maintaining the necessary GPA for graduation, LCC's existing grade appeal process remains the primary and recommended means for improving a grade. The grade appeal process is found on page 49 of the current school catalog.

However, if a course failure is the result of a final examination, worth 15% or more of the total grade, the following policy may be implemented:

1. The student may appeal to the instructor and the Registrar for a final examination retake. If the appeal is granted, a proctored re-write will take place in person and on campus within the allotted time period.
2. The written appeal must be made by the student within three (3) working days of receiving the course GRADE from the Registrar's office. It is to be submitted to both professor and Registrar.
3. The professor then has up to seven (7) calendar days in which to respond, administer and mark a re-take, and re-submit the revised course grade to the Registrar's office. Should an instructor be absent from campus, the department chair person or the Registrar will act on behalf of and with instruction from the instructor.

THE 7 YEAR GRADUATION RULE

A student has seven (7) years from the date of his or her first registration at LCC to complete his or her degree under the catalog in effect at the date of first registration. Students who continue in attendance beyond the seventh year may elect to meet the graduation requirements of the catalog in effect in the eighth year of attendance or the Catalog in effect at the year of readmission.

Students should also note that academic leave counts toward the 7 years required to complete the degree requirements for graduation.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

LCC seeks to be an institution that incorporates Christian character into all its decisions, activities and programs. Thus academic integrity is of highest importance. Students and faculty work together in relationships based on trust. Trust and integrity are essential to strong character and responsible citizenship.

As students accomplish academic work, LCC wants them to develop integrity, trust and strong character. LCC encourages students to develop their own thinking and make their own conclusions based on their own research. Each student's writing, assignments and other work should reflect that student's thought and effort. LCC believes that each student should be rewarded for his or her own work and shouldn't benefit from work that is not their own or work that is done dishonestly.

For these reasons LCC addresses and disciplines academic misconduct.

PLAGIARISM

Any of the following violations are deemed instances of plagiarism:

- Using the exact words of a published or unpublished author without quotation marks and/or without making reference to the source of these words.
- Using another student's research or writing assignment (in whole or in part) and submitting it as one's own work.
- Using another individual's written work and presenting it as one's own. For example, using a ghostwriter or having another individual revise or copy edit work to the extent that it is no longer recognizable as the student's genuine work.
- Duplicating a table, graph or diagram, in whole or in part, without reference to the source.

- Paraphrasing the conceptual framework, research design, interpretation, or any other ideas of another person, whether written or verbal (e.g. personal communications, ideas from a verbal presentation) without reference to the source.
- Using your own work from a previous or current course without proper citation.

Work may be deemed minimally plagiarized or substantially plagiarized at the instructor's discretion with reference to the descriptions of these in the Faculty Handbook and the Students Handbook.

Where a paper is deemed by the instructor to be minimally plagiarized, the instructor will require the paper to be rewritten in correct form, with a grade reduction as penalty. The grade reduction is to be determined by the instructor.

Where the assignment is deemed by the instructor to be substantially, the paper will be given a 0% with no possibility for regaining those points. The instructor will submit an Academic Misconduct Incident Report <https://lcc.lt/academics/forms-requests> to the Registrar along with the plagiarized paper.

CHEATING

Any of the following violations are deemed instances of cheating:

- Copying the answers of another student in any test, examination, or take-home assignment.
- Using materials in an examination or test other than those approved by the instructor.

If a student cheats during a quiz, test or final examination, the student's examination may be removed. The student receives a 0% for the examination. The instructor will submit an Academic Misconduct Incident Report <https://lcc.lt/academics/forms-requests> to the Registrar along with the quiz, test or final examination.

OTHER ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Other types of academic misconduct include:

- Fabricating evidence or statistics which supposedly represent original research.
- Returning a test for a proposed grade improvement having changed any information on that test after it was marked or scored.
- Submitting the same paper or portions thereof for more than one class or assignment, without approval by the instructors involved.
- Knowingly contributing to another student's cheating or plagiarism by sharing, for the purpose of deceit, material with another student
- Any other actions that compromise academic integrity.

If a student commits an act of academic misconduct the instructor will submit an Academic Misconduct Incident Report <https://lcc.lt/academics/forms-requests> with a description and supporting documentation describing the misconduct.

DISCIPLINE

Two instances of substantial plagiarism, or an instance of substantial plagiarism combined with any other form of cheating or academic misconduct within a single class, will result in failure of the course, a warning letter to the student and a disciplinary meeting with the Academic Vice President.

Two instances of substantial plagiarism, or an instance of substantial plagiarism combined with any other form of cheating or academic misconduct within two different classes, will result in a warning letter to the student and a disciplinary meeting with the Academic Vice President.

A third instance of substantial plagiarism, cheating or other academic misconduct results in dismissal from the university.

GRADES

FINAL GRADES

At the end of each semester, the faculty submit grades online to the Registrar. All grades are sent to students by LCC email.

Students having questions about the course grade may contact the instructor. Grades are withheld from students who have unpaid bills or unreturned books.

GRADING SYSTEM

All courses at LCC are graded on a 10 point scale. These grades are used to calculate a student's GPA.

10-point scale	Percentage	Grade meaning
10	93-100	Excellent
9	87-92	Very good
8	80-86	Good
7	73-79	Highly satisfactory
6	67-72	Satisfactory
5	60-66	Sufficient
4 (F)	50-59	Fail
3 (F)	40-49	Fail
2 (F)	30-39	Fail
1 (F)	25-29	Fail
0 (F)	0-24	Fail
0 (WF)	-	Withdrawn Fail

OTHER GRADES & NOTATIONS

Other grades are given in special cases. These grades are not calculated in the GPA:

AU	Audit
I	Incomplete
IP	In Progress
P	Pass
T	Transfer Credit
W	Withdrawn

INCOMPLETE GRADES

- An incomplete may be granted only for unexpected illness or other unexpected unusual circumstances.
- In order to be eligible for an incomplete grade a student must have 2/3 of the course work completed (excluding the final exams) and have a passing grade (5 and/or above) at the point of application.
- A student must request an incomplete grade and receive the instructor's approval by the last day of classes, before final exam week begins.
- The final grade for an incomplete should be reported to the Registrar as soon as the incomplete work is finished but no later than two weeks before the end of the following full term.
- The I grade becomes an F (1-4) if the student has not completed the work within the time allowed.
- If the student's situation fits with the circumstances indicated in point 1, the Registrar, in consultation with the Academic Vice President, may authorize a W (Withdrawn) in those courses which the student was passing at the time he/she became incapacitated. Courses carrying a grade of W receive no credit and are not counted as hours attempted.
- Academic leave does not negate these requirements.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE

Grade Point Average (GPA) is calculated by dividing the total number of grade points earned by the total number of credits attempted. For example, a student receives a 10 (in a 3-credit course), 7 (in a 6-credit course) and 8 (in a 3-credit course). $((10 \times 3) + (7 \times 6) + (8 \times 3)) / 3+6+3 = 8.00$ GPA. Transfer credits (T) and Pass (P) do not appear as hours attempted and are excluded from the GPA. Failed courses are included in the GPA. Cumulative (CUM) GPA refers to the GPA calculated for the entire period of study at LCC. Major GPA refers to the GPA calculated only for courses within the major.

GRADE APPEAL PROCESS

A student who wishes to appeal a grade must follow these steps in sequence:

1. Submit a written appeal to the instructor who gave the grade, stating the reason(s) the student feels a change of grade is warranted. Schedule a conference with the instructor, at which time the instructor will explain to the student how the student's grade was determined. The registrar can assist students in contacting an instructor.
2. If the instructor does not believe that a change in grade is warranted, and the student wishes to continue with the appeal, the student may submit a written appeal to the office of the Academic Vice President. The instructor may be asked to review the basis used in determining the grade and report the review to the Academic Vice President.
3. Grade appeals must be submitted to the instructor and resolved not later than the 14th day after students receive their grades. If the instructor does not believe that a change in grade is warranted, students may appeal to the Academic Vice President by the 21st day after they receive their grades. The Academic Vice President will inform students of the final decision not later than the 28th day after the appeal is received.

CHANGE OF GRADE

Requests for change of grades are submitted by the instructor to the Registrar only when an error in the original grade is found, or when an Incomplete is completed. No change of grade can be made after a diploma or diploma supplement is issued.

REPEATED COURSES

The original grade for a course is included on the transcript. A repeated course is so designated and is printed with the new grade earned. In calculating the cumulative GPA only the higher grade is used. If a student repeats a course in order to pass, an unlimited number of attempts may be made. Students may only repeat a course once in order to improve their academic record.

In cases where the course was initially passed and subsequently repeated, credit is granted only once for the course. Students may attempt to improve their academic record by repeating a maximum of one quarter of the courses taken at LCC. (This policy does not apply to PRIME students.)

ACADEMIC DEBT

Academic debt is a failed grade in core curriculum and required major courses only. Failed courses in these categories must be repeated. In cases when there are electives in required major courses, a student can choose another course option. However, repeating a failed course is strongly recommended as failed grade affects cumulative grade point average and is listed on the diploma supplement.

REQUEST FOR TRANSCRIPTS

Persons may request transcripts of their academic record at LCC. Official transcripts bear the signature of the appropriate school official and the school seal. Official transcripts requested for application to other colleges and universities bear LCC's stamp in a sealed envelope and are normally sent directly to the receiving institution. Unofficial transcripts, without stamp and signature, may be requested for a student's personal use.

Official transcripts cost (See Tuition and Fees section.)

ACADEMIC STANDING

GOOD STANDING

To remain in good standing, students must maintain a CUM GPA at or above 6.00. Student academic progress is reviewed by Committee on Academic Standing (CAS) at the end of each term. The committee is comprised of the Student Life Vice President, two instructional faculty members, one member of the Student Council, Student Success Center Coordinator and Registrar (chair).

The role of the Committee on Academic Standing (CAS) is to develop, monitor and act on policy related to student academic good standing at LCC. CAS regularly reviews the academic progress of students and identifies students that are not performing well enough to meet graduation requirements. CAS also reviews cases where students have not met the university's academic integrity policies. CAS takes actions according to the policies, including probation, suspension or dismissal.

HONORS LISTS

Full-time students who earn a semester grade point average of 9.20 - 9.99 qualify for the Honors List. Full-time students who earn a 10.00 semester GPA qualify for the Honors List with Special Distinction.

ACADEMIC PROBATION

A student whose CUM GPA falls below 6.00 is automatically placed on academic probation. Academic probation is designed to assist students to work toward the high academic standards expected at LCC and ensure that they complete their study program.

Academic contracts are designed to give probationary students the best chance of raising their CUM GPA to the required level in the next term in order to return to good standing. Academic contracts are adapted to the student's situation, but will always include strict adherence to the terms of the courses in which they are enrolled as outlined in the syllabus and the achievement of a CUM GPA of 6.00. If the contract is fulfilled at the end of the period, the student returns to good standing. If achieving good standing in one term seems unlikely or even impossible, the Committee on Academic Standing considers the option of placing a student on probation for up to three semesters. Failure to meet requirements outlined in the contract will result in suspension or dismissal.

A student may appeal the specific terms of an academic contract by submitting a letter to the Academic Vice President, providing evidence that the student's progress towards good standing is not being served by these terms.

ACADEMIC WARNING

A student whose semester GPA falls below 6.00 but whose CUM GPA remains above 6.00 automatically receives an academic warning letter. Academic warning letters are designed to alert the students of potential loss of Good Standing status if their current performance does not improve.

SUSPENSION

The decision to suspend a student is determined by CAS, COD or a combination of both after careful review in case a student is unable to remain in Good Academic Standing or to conform to the Community Standards due to any unusual circumstances including circumstances caused by medical, psychological, behavioral and/or discipline issues.

Suspension provides students the opportunity to consider whether they wish to continue their education at LCC. While on suspension the person loses the status of a student and with that all rights and privileges afforded to LCC students. Suspensions are always at least one semester and seldom more than two semesters in length.

DISMISSAL

The decision to dismiss a student is determined by CAS after a careful review of student's academic performance (e.g. if CUM GPA goes down after the second or third semester on probation). Students who have been dismissed lose the status of a student and with that all rights and privileges afforded to LCC students.

APPEAL PROCESS AFTER SUSPENSION/DISMISSAL

STEP #1 Students who have been suspended or dismissed and wish to appeal the decision need to discuss their situation with the CAS members at a specially arranged CAS hearing. If a student is unable to attend the hearing, he/she can send a statement explaining the reasons why the decision needs to be reviewed. CAS will communicate the final decision after the hearing. If a student fails to attend the hearing or send a statement, CAS decision is final and non-negotiable.

STEP #2 Students who are not satisfied with CAS decision after the hearing may submit a final written appeal to the Academic Vice President within 24 hours of the hearing. The Academic Vice President will review the case along with the Registrar and a Department Chair. That decision will be final and non-negotiable.

READMISSION AFTER SUSPENSION/DISMISSAL

Readmission for suspended students is not automatic and students may apply for readmission following the applicable suspension period. Suspended students may apply for readmission to LCC by contacting the Registrar. Suspended students must present evidence that they are ready to return to LCC. The Academic Vice President will take into full account the student's complete record of past performance at LCC. Suspended students are readmitted on probation if their CUM GPA was below 6.00 at the point of suspension.

Dismissed students are not normally readmitted. However, in cases of strong rationale students may reapply but they are not guaranteed readmission. Dismissed students may reapply after two semesters away from LCC by contacting the Registrar. CAS will take into full account the student's complete record of past performance at LCC.

Students who have not attended LCC for more than two academic years will be required to follow the curriculum in the catalog for the academic year in which they are readmitted. If a readmitted student fails to live up to the terms of their contract, the student will normally be dismissed.

PRIME Students

Prerequisite Intensive Module in English (PRIME) students are expected to achieve and maintain a minimum CUM of 7.00 to remain in Good Standing. Students may be enrolled as PRIME students for a maximum of two semesters. Those who demonstrate that their English language ability has improved such that they are ready for BA degree courses will transition to their BA study program fully at the end of their first semester, or partially at the end of their first semester (50/50), or fully at the end of their second semester. All decisions regarding PRIME students are subject to adjustments based on teachers' recommendations.

PRIME students with a semester GPA between 5.00 and 7.00 after their first semester will meet with the PRIME Director to review their performance and may receive a Warning Letter outlining conditions for continued study. PRIME students with a semester GPA below 5.00 after their first semester will normally be dismissed from LCC. Suspension is not an option for PRIME students.

A PRIME student who fails to meet the required semester GPA of 7.00 after their second semester in PRIME will normally not be recommended for BA study program and dismissed from LCC. Recommendation for dismissal from PRIME will be forwarded by the PRIME Director to CAS for final review. Dismissed students will be notified in writing. Students may submit a written appeal to the Academic Vice President within three days of notification. The Academic Vice President's decision will be final and non-negotiable.

Those with a GPA of less than 5.00 will not be able to continue at LCC and may only reapply after one full academic year. They will only be able to continue their studies at LCC if they submit an external (i.e. not administered by LCC) standardized test score. The standardized test must be one that LCC normally accepts for admissions purposes (TOEFL iBT, IELTS, Pearson Academic, Pearson General, CPE, CAE). The score must meet the university's published admission requirements.

Student-Athletes

Student-athletes must maintain good academic standing. CAS will make decisions about student athletes when they fall out of academic good standing:

- can participate in athletics for one more semester while on probation (if it is possible to regain academic good standing during that semester)
- must terminate their participation in athletics while on probation (if it is NOT possible to regain academic good standing during that semester)

DISCONTINUING STUDIES

Disruption of studies for any reason will lengthen the amount of time required to complete the program of study. See the section on Academic Requirements.

ACADEMIC LEAVE

A student wishing to leave LCC voluntarily for a limited period may choose to be classified as a student on academic leave. Application for academic leave should be made during the semester prior to the intended leave. An application form should be requested from the Registrar's office. The purpose for requesting academic leave should be indicated on the form. The Department Chair or Program Director, Librarian, SFS Director, Migration Officer, Housing Coordinator and the Registrar must sign the form. Students must make sure they do not have any outstanding obligations.

Under unusual circumstances (to be determined on an individual basis by the Academic Vice President), a student may request academic leave within the semester they are currently in but only up to the end of the Add/Drop period. After this date, all leaves will be treated as withdrawals (or withdrawn/failure) or incompletes.

Academic leave may be granted for periods of up to one year. A student who has been absent for more than one year will be considered withdrawn from LCC, and this will be noted on the student's transcript.

Students on academic leave shall retain all the catalog privileges of continuous enrollment. Students should be aware, however, of the consequences of stepping out of the sequence of courses. Additional semesters may be required in order to complete the program. After returning from academic leave, there is no need to reapply for admission to LCC.

Students should also note that academic leave counts toward the seven (7) years required to complete the degree requirements for graduation. If a student receives financial awards and then decides to take an academic leave, he/she loses the award. The student is then informed of the dates for financial application for the next academic year.

WITHDRAWAL FROM LCC

During the semester, a student intending to withdraw from LCC is required to complete a Withdrawal Request Form available on the LCC website. If the student withdraws before the last day to drop a course (the fifth week of the semester), the student will receive a W (Withdrawn) for each course. This grade carries neither credit nor penalty.

If the student withdraws after the last day to drop a course, the student will receive a grade of WF (Withdrawn-Fail) for each course. WF is equivalent to a 0. The SFS office will pay any refund due to the student after the student has officially withdrawn.

A student who fails to complete the Withdrawal Request Form and does not attend all courses during any period in a term will also be considered to have withdrawn from LCC. Similarly, a student who does not enroll within the Add/Drop period will also be considered withdrawn.

READMISSION AFTER WITHDRAWAL

Withdrawn students may apply for readmission to LCC by contacting the Registrar. Readmission will take into full account the student's complete record of past performance at LCC. Acceptance or denial or readmission on contract are the possible options open to Academic Vice President. Students who have not attended LCC for more than two academic years will be required to follow the curriculum in the catalog for the academic year in which they are reinstated.

PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT

Prior Learning Assessment is the assessment and recognition of learning achievements and competencies acquired in non-formal and informal ways. The goal of the assessment of prior learning is to contribute to a person's desire for lifelong learning, to meet the individual learning needs and guarantee a person the opportunity to validate the acquired knowledge and skills. For more information please contact LCC Registrar at registrar@lcc.lt.

The procedures apply to the following individuals:

- those with at least secondary education who are planning to study in a formal program of study at the University and wish to evaluate competencies acquired in this way (work activities, independent study, internships, seminars, projects and so on);
- enrolled students who seek to formalize learning achievements acquired through non-formal and informal learning.

Assessment of Prior Learning

Candidates may apply to assess their learning achievements acquired through:

- work activities;
- volunteering;
- internships, courses and other activities that lasted for a limited period of time;
- independent study;
- education through hobbies

Candidates must be persons with at least a high school diploma:

- without bachelor degree in the field but with work experience of at least 3 years;
- with higher education degree but employed in a different field for at least 3 years;
- interrupted studies in higher education for various reasons

Learning achievements may be assessed using the following methods: interview, tests, performance monitoring, portfolio, self-analysis and others. For each assessment of each competency at least three assessment methods must be used.

Competency assessment and recognition is carried out by the Committee.

Organization of the Assessment of Prior Learning

- Before the start of the assessment, the candidate has to apply in writing to the Registrar's office. A contract regarding the assessment of competencies where both parties' responsibilities are outlined is signed between the University and a candidate.
- Assessment of prior learning takes place once a year and consists of the following integral parts: informing, consulting, assessment and formalization of competencies.
 - Information stage: A candidate has the right to full information about the principles of assessment, procedures, conditions, and possible assessment results. A candidate shall pay the registration fee (for registration and consultation).
 - Consultation stage: A consultant from the given Department is appointed to the candidate to advise on possible evaluation methods, how to prepare a portfolio, in what form to provide information, how to prepare for various assessments (interview, test, etc.). The candidate receives not more than four consultations in total. One consultation is 1 academic hour.
 - Assessment stage:
 - The President appoints a 3-person Committee for competency assessment.
 - The Committee examines the content of the documents and decides what methods will be used to evaluate informally learning achievements and informs the candidate.
 - The Committee performs assessment and formalization in 30 days.
 - The Committee has the right to ask to supplement a portfolio with additional evidence. In this case, assessment time is adjusted by mutual agreement.
 - The committee prepares the final evaluation report which concludes whether competencies are recognized or not.
 - Formalization stage:
 - Recognized competencies and assessment results are registered as learning achievements of the study program and recorded into a tracking sheet.
 - Not more than 75% of the study program can be recognized through PLA.
 - Electives are recognized with no limitations;
 - Thesis and/or comprehensive exam cannot be recognized;
 - Credit transfer letters are submitted by the Registrar to the Academic Vice President for approval;
 - A candidate is informed about the decision and assessment results.
 - Registrar's office issues the candidate a transcript of the courses accredited.

Final Provisions

- A candidate has the right to appeal the results of the assessment. If a person does not agree with the decision, he may within 5 days of receipt of the reply appeal to the President.
 - Appeals are evaluated by an Appeal Committee consisting of 3 members appointed by the President. The Appeal Committee consists of two program lecturers and one social partner.
 - The candidate may be invited to the appeal hearing. A candidate may not be represented by another person.
 - The Appeal Committee shall examine the appeal within 30 calendar days from receipt of the appeal and submit a written response to the candidate.
 - The decision of the Appeal Committee is recorded in the minutes that are signed by all the members of the Appeal Committee. The Appeal Committee records the new assessment decision (if it is changed). Any new assessment decision shall be signed by all members of the Appeal Committee.

- A fixed fee is charged for the competency assessment and recognition which includes:
 - Application and consultation fee (not more than 1 BSI).
 - Assessment fee depends on the applicant's competences and learning achievements. Fee for one credit may not be greater than 0.6 BSI.

In the first years, the central ideas of Western civilization are discussed, focusing on the contributions that Christian thought has made throughout history. Basic skills in the areas of writing, mathematics, and computers, natural sciences and fine arts are also emphasized, providing students with a foundation for success in any area of their life.

In advanced years, core courses encourage the student to integrate concepts learned in their major field. Studies of ethics and metaphysics teach students to develop their critical thinking abilities, and help them to apply their studies to every area of their life.

There are 16 required core courses (84 ECTS credits).

Language and Culture – (All students) are required to take 6 credits of Lithuanian language courses. Lithuanian residents are placed in the appropriate level Lithuanian language courses based on proficiency. Non-Lithuanian residents must take Introductory Lithuanian I. The table list below identifies the core courses that all students should take. Descriptions of the courses begin in Section 8.

Computer Proficiency – Computer skills are essential to academic success and it is assumed that students enter LCC with appropriate skills. Students must demonstrate computer proficiency by passing the LCC computer proficiency examination, which is offered at the beginning of the students' first semester at LCC.

If the student does not pass the examination twice he/she must enroll in COM 106 Information and Communication Technology and pass the course before enrolling in any 200-level courses. The student must pay the normal tuition for this 3 ECTS credit course.

The sequence of courses according to year recognizes the normal progression of learning from the general to the more advanced courses. Courses in any given year are normally considered prerequisite to those in successive years.

All courses are worth 6 ECTS credits except where indicated otherwise.

CONTEMPORARY COMMUNICATION

DEPARTMENT CHAIR: MICHAEL FINCH, Ph.D.

MISSION STATEMENT

Through training in oral, written and visual communication, media and technology systems, interpersonal communication and negotiation, persuasion and leadership, the Contemporary Communication program develops competent and ethical communicators who lead transformation in public, private and social enterprise, using the interrelated media of today's global environment.

PROGRAM AIMS AND STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Program Aim 1: Interpersonal Communication: Students cultivate the interpersonal communication skills needed for employment in public, private, and non-governmental sectors.

- 1.1: Students develop interpersonal skills that exhibit respect and empathy.
- 1.2: Students learn to assess shared goals, negotiate in order to build support, and exert positive influence.
- 1.3: Students develop the skills to work in groups with stakeholders from various organizational roles.
- 1.4: Students demonstrate understanding of their own culture, and appreciate cultural diversity and the role it plays in effective and ethical communication.
- 1.5: Students understand the relationship between communication theory and practice from a historical and contemporary standpoint, and use their understanding to identify and evaluate current and future trends in communication practices.

Program Aim 2: Communication for Leadership: Students acquire the communication competencies and ethical sensibilities to be transformational Christian leaders in public, corporate, organizational and private contexts.

- 2.1: Students are ready to encounter environments characterized by functional and cultural differences.
- 2.2: Students develop the communication and collaborative skills needed to lead positive and holistic social change.
- 2.3: Students develop skills for effective and ethical participation in the workplace—in management, workplace influence, and conflict resolution—including the appropriate empathy and cultural sensitivity.
- 2.4: Students understand the communication challenges and opportunities for principled social change.
- 2.5: Students learn how to find, develop, and deliver communication solutions for current societal problems, consistent with professional ethics and a Christian worldview.
- 2.6: Students learn best communication practices for how to influence institutions in all sectors of life.

Program Aim 3: Identifying Opportunities for Positive Change: Students learn to use communication to identify change opportunities.

- 3.1: Students learn how to identify the characteristics and needs of an audience.

- 3.2: Students apply communication-software-development methodologies to analyze problems, define project requirements, and identify transformation opportunities.
- 3.3: Students understand the value of research in bringing about social change.
- 3.4: Students understand copyright and know how to use sources properly.
- 3.5: Students develop discernment and habits of lifelong learning.

Program Aim 4: Building Communication Solutions: Students develop strong oral, written, visual and digital communication competencies for effective functioning in organizations.

- 4.1: Students develop strong listening, speaking, and writing skills, and the ability to adapt to target audiences.
- 4.2: Students learn how to make oral presentations in corporate and social settings using technology.
- 4.3: Students learn to compose and deliver papers, reports, proposals and other texts.
- 4.4: Students learn the fundamentals of visual design and learn to produce usable designs and interfaces.
- 4.5: Students learn to adapt a message to a broad range of media.
- 4.6 Students learn to use agile and waterfall methods to design and produce software solutions to specific, multi-cultural problems across multiple disciplines.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

A major in Communication prepares graduates for employment in a wide variety of positions that require any of the following: strong oral and written communication skills, an aptitude for nurturing relationships, an ability to communicate ideas in engaging and relevant ways to different audiences, an understanding of communication dynamics in private, organizational or public contexts. Such positions can be found in business, politics and law, media and entertainment, education and social work. A degree in Communication allows graduates to be flexible and adaptable to changing circumstances in their professional life. A Communication major can also prepare a student for graduate school in communication studies, information technology or related fields in the social sciences and humanities.

MAJOR

The major in Contemporary Communication consists of 132 ECTS credits (108 required, including 15 thesis credits and 15 practicum credits and 24 major elective credits).

Required Courses: 108 credits

- COM 100 Introduction to Communication and Media

- 2.2 Program graduates will demonstrate knowledge of principles of economics (supply/demand dynamics, consumer choice theory, profit maximization, industry structure, determinants of interest rates, monetary and fiscal policy, economic growth and its measurement, international trade)
- 2.3 Program graduates will demonstrate knowledge of business finance principles (present value, stock/bond valuation, capital markets, financial analysis and capital budgeting)
- 2.4 Program graduates will demonstrate knowledge of the principles of management (planning, organizing, leading, controlling, ethically-sound business actions, and enhanced business and managerial decision making using information technology)
- 2.5 Program graduates will demonstrate knowledge of the principles of marketing (providing the right blend of product offering, pricing, promotional methods, and distribution system)

Program Aim 3: International Business Administration Program will cultivate students' ability to communicate effectively in international business and non-business settings.

- 3.1 Program graduates will demonstrate the ability to communicate their ideas clearly in writing
- 3.2 Program graduates will demonstrate the ability to communicate their ideas clearly in oral form
- 3.3 Program graduates will demonstrate the ability to use technology appropriately to communicate their ideas (including searching for, finding, and managing information)

Program Aim 4: International Business Administration Program will nurture students' quantitative and critical thinking skills as well as creativity throughout the curriculum, practicum, and final projects, leading to a top notch preparation for further studies or work in business fields

- 4.1 Program graduates will demonstrate interdisciplinary critical thinking skills (including critically evaluating and synthesizing sources of information, ideas, and perspectives)

- 4.2 Program graduates will demonstrate the ability to perform independent research (describe a problem, set objectives and tasks for a systematic investigation, choose the appropriate research methods, abide by the institutional research ethics, analyze and interpret results, form conclusions, communicate proposals to a jury)
- 4.3 Program graduates will demonstrate the ability to critique and integrate relevant literature
- 4.4 Program graduates demonstrate the ability to use research methods (observations, interviews, experimental or correlational designs)
- 4.5 Program graduates demonstrate the ability to practice and conduct research ethically
- 4.6 Program graduates demonstrate the ability to use various research tools (including effective use of software appropriate for research)
- 4.7 Program graduates demonstrate the ability to apply statistical methods appropriately
- 4.8 Program graduates will demonstrate creativity in their business plan or business thesis
- 4.9 Program graduates will evidence good preparation for further studies or work in business fields through good placement rates after their graduation from the program

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

DEPARTMENT CHAIR: ROBIN GINGERICH, Ph.D.

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the LCC English Language and Literature study program (also referred to as the LCC English program) is to empower students to achieve their career goals in language related fields through training in rhetoric, oral and written communication, linguistics, literary analysis, and translation, students learn life-long skills in using English, or any language, to teach, persuade, and delight.

PROGRAM AIMS AND STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

English Department Program Goal 1: Students build the intellectual groundwork for further training and research in graduate and professional programs in Lithuania and abroad.

Students will be able to:

- Construct well-organized, rhetorical arguments in academic essays (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 1A)
- Synthesize researched evidence that supports an argument and appropriately document sources by using in-text documentation, paraphrasing, and summarizing (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 1B)
- Comprehend and organize research articles into annotated bibliographies and synthesize significant research findings into literature reviews (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 1C)
- Defend a thesis, complete with an abstract, a literature review original research, and an evaluation of the findings at a public defense (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 1D)

English Department Program Goal 2: Students prepare for careers in both private and public sectors in Lithuania, the European Union, and around the globe - anywhere that prizes the pairing of critical thinking with a professionally-trained command of English.

Program Level Student Learning Outcomes in the area of TESOL:

Students will be able to:

- Teach English lessons to students by designing lesson plans based on principles of teaching pedagogy and integrating course books with authentic materials (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 2A)
- Execute effective classroom management principles (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 2B)
- Develop professional work habits in a school and work environment (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 2C)

Program Level Student Learning Outcomes in the area of translation and interpretation:

Students will be able to:

- Develop skills and strategies in order to work as a translator and a an interpreter (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 2D)

- Practice translation and interpretation skills in a supervised setting while learning to express the message in the second language as coherently, accurately, and smoothly as possible (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 2E)

Program Level Student Learning Outcomes in the area of literary studies:

Students will be able to:

- Hone analytical writing skills in literary criticism to work as a literary critic (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 2F)
- Build a practical repertoire of literary knowledge to work as an instructor (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 2G)

English Department Program Goal 3: Students deepen their knowledge and practice in English by extensive study in the areas of Literature, Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL), and Translation and Interpretation. Depending upon their chosen emphasis of study, students cultivate their English language skills to perform such crucial and varied tasks as writing, editing, teaching, and translating.

Program Level Student Learning Outcomes

Students will be able to:

- Define foundational concepts in English linguistics, sociolinguistics, and psycholinguistics (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 3A)
- Investigate the English language in terms of morphology, syntax, semantics, pragmatics, phonetics, and phonology (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 3B)
- Differentiate aspects of discourse analysis based on the type and purpose of text or oral discourse, genre, audience, and the communicative situation (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 3C)
- Gain an understanding of the theories of translation or interpretation as a means of communication across languages and cultures (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 3D)
- Articulate current theories of first and second language acquisition and bilingualism (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 3E)
- Examine language teaching approaches and methods in order to ascertain appropriate pedagogy for particular teaching contexts (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 3F)
- Demonstrate basic skills of literary interpretation, such as formal criticism, comparative textual analysis, and close reading (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 3G)
- Articulate and utilize general critical theory (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 3H)
- Apply methods of literary research to synthesize ideas from primary and secondary texts and apply critical theory into scholarly interpretations of literary works (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 3I)
- Explore multidisciplinary ideas of philosophy, history, and theology through studies in literature (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 3J)

English Department Program Goal 4:

Students develop an extensive understanding of language through deconstruction and analysis of language structures and texts. This in turn promotes their cognitive and social skills, such as critical thinking, argument, tolerance, and lifelong learning, necessary for further studies in graduate schools, future jobs in the professional world, and contributing to a civil society.

Program Level Student Learning Outcomes

Students will be able to:

- Progress from receiving knowledge to critically thinking about language, texts, and contexts (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 4A)
- Hone skills in reading and writing cogent prose for the purpose of differentiating subjective points of truth and crafting rhetorical arguments about texts (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 4B)

- Create a variety of expository texts which exhibit critical thinking, an awareness of audience, and strong writer's voice with an understanding of the social effects of language as well as a commitment to open dialogue (Program Level Student Learning Outcome 4C)

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

A graduate in English Language and Literature is prepared to pursue graduate studies in literature, English language, teaching or translation. A graduate may pursue a career in journalism, advertising, translating and interpreting, teaching English, or public relations. A graduate is also prepared for any career which requires a broad-based liberal arts education.

Global Demand for English Expertise: The LCC English Language and Literature study program fulfills the need for professionals with formal training and expertise in English in the dynamic global and EU employment market, especially within Central and Eastern Europe.

Competencies for lifelong learning: Many careers do not demand a university degree with a specific major, but instead demand a wide array of demonstrated competencies, including communication and critical thinking. One cannot peruse the current job listings from many career fields without repeatedly discovering such job specifications as “fluent English required” or “superior skills in the written communication of English necessary.” Tellingly, these provisos are found perhaps most frequently in upper-level management and administrative positions. By offering specialization in English, the LCC program produces graduates capable of excelling in a vast array of careers in research, business, government, education, and publishing, as well as in cultural industries such as entertainment and communications.

Lithuania in the EU: Due in part to its EU membership, as well as its quickly expanding economy, Lithuanian society finds itself in need of English language specialists, whose skills help to facilitate the social, cultural, and economic mobility demanded of citizens in open societies.

Student Demands: Students want the flexibility to pursue careers in English related fields and to pursue graduate study. The LCC English Language and Literature program meets student demands for professional training and expertise in English oral and written communication, linguistics, translation, literary analysis, and teaching.

MAJOR

Students can build their program to match their career interests.

EVANGELICAL THEOLOGY

DEPARTMENT CHAIR: STEVEN VAN ZANEN, D.Min.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Theology department provides instruction in the Bible as the authoritative Word of God and in Christian history, thought and practice with the purpose of commending Christ as Lord and Savior and so contributing to the formation of Christian character, worldview, and service.

PROGRAM AIMS AND STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

The Theology Study Program seeks to cultivate productive and thoughtful global citizens with a Christian worldview who are able to respond respectfully to intellectual and cultural challenges.

Program aim 1

A program of study in Evangelical Theology seeks to equip students with competencies relevant for success in a broad range of professions in a context of international relationships.

Learning Outcomes:

Students will be able to:

- 1A. communicate Biblical, philosophical, and theological material in appropriate forms to a variety of audiences;
- 1B. perform academic research and writing using broadly accepted methodological tools in the Biblical, philosophical, and theological disciplines;
- 1C. articulate overarching themes, arguments, questions, and concepts in Biblical, philosophical, and theological disciplines; and
- 1D. read and interpret Biblical texts diachronically and synchronically in light of their theological, literary, canonical, cultural, and historical contexts.

Program aim 2

A program of study in Evangelical Theology seeks to equip students with a broad historical and conceptual framework for Christian thought and practice.

Learning Outcomes

Students will be able to:

- 2A. comprehend the basic concepts of evangelical theology's various academic sub-disciplines, including Biblical studies, Christian Life and Ministry, Philosophy, Religious studies, and Theology;
- 2B. assess constructively the philosophical dimensions of contemporary issues in the church and wider society;
- 2C. appreciate the history, faith, and practices of the major Christian traditions in both East and West; and,
- 2D. articulate philosophical and theological arguments about matters of Christian doctrine and practice in light of competing arguments and conclusions.

Program aim 3

A program of study in Evangelical Theology seeks to equip students to engage society as thoughtful Christians in relevant ways through application-oriented courses.

Learning Outcomes

Students will be able to:

- 3A. practically apply in relevant ways methods and ideas acquired from their study of Biblical, philosophical, spiritual, and theological texts;
- 3B. articulate distinctives of the Christian faith in comparison to other religious traditions;
- 3C. in the case of a double-degree, demonstrate their synthesis of Biblical, philosophical, spiritual, and theological studies and a secondary field of study such as English, International Business, Communication, International Relations and Development or Psychology; and
- 3D. exhibit critical thinking through the use of methodological tools, analysis, argumentation, and synthesis.

Program aim 4

A program of study in Evangelical Theology seeks to prepare students for continued academic, professional, and spiritual growth beyond their years at LCC.

Learning Outcomes for program goal 4.

Students will be able to:

- 4A. possess the methodological and conceptual tools necessary for their success in a graduate program;
- 4B. engage in the practice of long-term Christian spiritual formation drawn from the major Christian traditions in both the East and West;
- 4C. articulate a personal philosophy of Christian service that will help shape their career paths beyond University; and
- 4D. make thoughtful, responsible, and ethical contributions to their communities.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

A graduate in Evangelical Theology is prepared for further graduate level theological study and for various forms of Christian ministry in churches or in Christian service organizations. A graduate is prepared to make a Christian contribution to their communities and churches while working in other professions. A graduate is also prepared for any career which requires a broad-based liberal arts education.

MAJOR

It represents serious academic study of the various theological disciplines from the standpoint of the historic Christian faith.

The curriculum focuses on three broad areas, which provide a synthesis of critical understanding and practice. The first is textual, in that it is directed toward the development of skills in the interpretation of primary biblical texts. The second area is devoted to contextual study. By means of the study of philosophy, history and culture, as well as systematic theology, students learn to see the texts in relation to the larger world. The third area is the practical application of insights gained through the study of text and context.

It is strongly recommended that students majoring in Theology take Biblical Literature I and II in the first year and Worldview and Christian Faith in the second year since they are prerequisites for a number of Theology electives.

Evangelical Theology major consists of 120 ECTS credits (102 ECTS required credits, including 15 ECTS practicum credits and 30 ECTS of limited electives and 18 ECTS elective credits within the major).

BUS 461

Servant Leadership: 3 ECTS credits. The LCC mission states, "LCC International University provides liberal arts education within an international learning community that transforms people for servant leadership." What is servant leadership? Why would people want to merge the seemingly contradictory concepts of being a servant and of being a leader?

This cross-discipline, seminar style course will explore the concepts of servant leadership through popular press articles, proposed theoretical models, biblical descriptions, and examples of leader behavior and follower expectations. Through this course students will: be able to identify current leadership styles and theories; compare and contrast servant leadership styles with other styles and theories; identify the strengths and weaknesses of a serving approach to leadership in various situations and organizations (profit and non-for-profit, private and public, secular and religious).

Prerequisite(s): Year III-IV status.

BUS 476

Business Final Project - Applied Research: Business Feasibility Study. 6 ECTS credits. In this first part of the business final project course, students can choose from the options of doing a Business Plan (BP) or a Client-Linked Project (CLP). A Client-linked project (CLP) focuses on addressing a professional business-marketing problem with an outside (of LLC) client organization. For this type of final project, the topic definition, research approach and methods are developed in the context of a client-focused issue or problem rather than being based on a student defined research question. Students work with a real company/organization is addressing a business problem/need/opportunity. For BP, a business feasibility study is conducted and proposed, and defended. Independent study and class reviews are used by the student to research a proposed target market, conduct a business environment analysis, and identify opportunities. Using accepted market research methodologies students prepare a feasibility study for one out of several developed business options. In this applied research students are expected to demonstrate creativity and independence in applying theoretical knowledge gained throughout the study program to practical business problems and market opportunities. In the second part of the course, students conduct independent and creative research, gather and analyze relevant information, and formulate solutions for a business opportunity based on the feasibility study, leading to a complete business plan. The nature of the business plan project will require students to demonstrate practical skills and apply theoretical knowledge gained through the study program. The business plan and CLP will be presented and defended at a public defense in the second semester part of the business final project course.

International Economics: 6 ECTS credits. This is an introductory course in the theory of comparative advantage, trade, and income distribution. Topics include the welfare analysis of trade; trade under imperfect competition; strategic trade policy; labor markets and migration, preferential agreements, and the world trading system; the balance of payments; international monetary standards; government exchange rate policies; international capital movements; war and inflation; and the role of the International Monetary Fund and the World Trade Organization. The course will focus on applying economic theory to major policy questions including EU integration, and the special problems of small states (including post-Soviet states) in the international economy.

Prerequisite(s): ECO 203, ECO 204, ECO 202 (for IRD majors)

ECO 444

Behavioral Economics: 6 ECTS credits.

This course analyzes decision making under uncertainty. It introduces the important concepts of behavioral analysis in order to provide more realism to economic models, predictions and policy decisions usually found in neo-classical economics. The main topics include economics, methodology, unstructured problems solving, opportunity cost, rationality, self-interested individuals, property rights, organization and control, integration of faith and economics, first law of demand, family economics, and reconciling empirical results with economic theory.

Prerequisite(s): ECO 203, ECO 204

ECO 445

Economics of Conflict: 6 ECTS credits. Economists, together with political scientists and others, are developing theories about the economic origins of dictatorship and democracy, about violence and social orders, and about the links between conflict, security, and economic development. This upper-level economics course explores the economic causes and consequences of conflict, including the policy dimensions of intervention, prevention and post-conflict resolution. Conflict economics applies economic analysis to diverse activities such as war, arms races, and terrorism, showing how they can be understood as purposeful choices responsive to underlying incentives. In addition, it treats appropriation as a fundamental economic activity, joining production and exchange as a means of wealth acquisition. In addition, the economic dimension of peace processes is leading to the integration of an economic perspective into peacemaking. Theories covered in the course include the production possibilities model, the rational choice model and game theory. Course activities focus on case studies.

Prerequisite(s): ECO 203, 204, CST 200

ECO 450

Econometrics: 6 ECTS credits. This is a course in introductory econometrics, designed to provide students with the theoretical tools and practical experience necessary to do applied econometric research. Econometrics is concerned with how to learn from economic data. The course focuses on the application of statistical and mathematical methods in the field of economics to describe the numerical relationships between key economic forces such as capital, interest rates, and labor. The main tool of econometrics is regression analysis, which is concerned with uncovering and estimating relationships between different variables.

Prerequisite(s): BUS 224, ECO 203, ECO 204

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT

IRD 100

Introduction to Political Science: 6 ECTS credits. This course presents an overview of the discipline, including the basic theories, concepts, approaches, and enduring questions of political science. The major Western political ideologies will be studied as well as key elements of the political system. This course will also introduce students to the most important contemporary issues in political science such as public policy making, cooperation between states, origin and nature of political violence, social, political and economic change, political development. The course also provides students the analytical skills and basic tools of political analysis necessary to understand and explain modern politics in historical context.

IRD 101

Introduction to International Relations: 6 ECTS credits. This course offers a basic introduction to International Relations, its historical context, main theoretical approaches, levels of analysis and the most important transnational issues. Students will be introduced to the main International Relation theories of Realism, Liberalism, Constructivism and others. They will also learn about the nature and role of the modern state and other non-state actors in the international arena such as individuals, intergovernmental organizations, international institutions and NGOs. Special emphasis will be placed on the topics of war and peace and human rights. At the end of the course the most important transnational issues will be discussed.

IRD 102

International Development: 6 ECTS credits. Students are provided with a basic understanding of the field of international development in today's global context. The course enables the student to understand different theories pertaining to international development focusing on developing nations. Basic terms, concepts, and definitions are examined throughout the course.

IRD 201

Political Theory: 6 ECTS credits. This course surveys contemporary approaches to the discipline and study of politics. This course is intended to help students become more critical thinkers by introducing them to current theories and methods used by political scientists. These theories will allow students to examine the subjects they study later in their academic career. They will become familiar with the questions that political scientists ask in different disciplines and the methods they have developed to answer those questions. They will come to understand how those approaches can assist governments in forming policy and citizens in making political decisions.

Prerequisite(s): IRD 100

IRD 202

Introduction to Political Philosophy: 6 ECTS credits. This course covers the ideas of the major political philosophers of the Western canon from Antiquity to the present, thereby tracing the development, evolution, and major innovations in Western political thought. The course is divided into three chronological and thematic subsections: political philosophy from the Antiquity to the Renaissance, beginning with Socrates and concluding with Machiavelli; political philosophy from the introduction of sovereignty and the social contract tradition to the 19th century, i.e. from Hobbes to Marx; and, finally, modern approaches to political philosophy (Marxist and critical left, 20th century conservatism, liberalism and libertarianism, and communitarianism). As a result, students get an insight into both timeless and emergent debates in the discipline of political philosophy. In all cases, key questions to be asked include, but will not be limited to, the following: where is political power and authority located? What is the ideal social and political entity and how ought it to be ordered? What is the role of the political community? What is the source of law and other norms and what role do they play in society and government? What is the nature of a social and political life well lived? By the end of the course, students will be not only familiar with the Western canon of political philosophy but will also be capable of understanding how these ideas have shaped and influenced (and continue to shape and influence) the social and political life that we live today.

IRD 210

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

IRD 301

International Relations and Development Research Methods I: 6 ECTS credits. This course introduces students to epistemological and methodological traditions in social scientific enquiry. Basic principles of discipline specific research design, both quantitative and qualitative are covered. Students will learn and apply key techniques, including inductive and deductive reasoning, hypothesis construction, operationalization of concepts, measurement, sampling and probability, causal inference, and the logic of controls. They will use these techniques to develop a research question, conduct a literature review, and craft a research proposal. Issues surrounding data collection and analysis, criteria for evaluation of research, and research ethics are examined. Students are required to apply the theoretical knowledge through practical exercises and assignments.

Prerequisite(s): IRD 100, IRD 101, IRD 102

IRD 302

Development Cooperation Policy and Actors: 6 ECTS credits. The course addresses development cooperation policies and their actors. It is built on 4 thematic modules aiming to introduce the students with the global forms of governance, international trading, financial and aid systems, addressing aspects of social change and the role of the civil society actors, acquitting them with the increasing role of the private sector in development as well as providing with the tools to assess the development cooperation policies. The course enables the students to understand the impacts of global policies to the local and international development, identify main international actors including but not limited to the agencies of the United Nations, the European Union, international financial institutions, providing the solid background for independent analysis of the developmental challenges in a global context. Moreover, it discusses various actors within the civil society and the private sector, enabling the student's ability to recognize and assess different approaches to international development and social change. Through a variety of study methods applied, the students are exposed to think critically about the development cooperation policies and are provided with the safe experimental environment to apply their theoretical knowledge.

Prerequisite(s): IRD 100, IRD 102

IRD/CST/BUS 303

Negotiation: 3 ECTS credits. Negotiation is an important conflict resolution skill in the workplace as well as a key communication skill in navigating the increasingly complex world. The negotiation fundamentals covered in the course include distributive and integrative bargaining, perception/cognition/emotion, communication skills, power, ethics, gender, personality; multi-party, international and cross-cultural negotiations.

Prerequisite(s): CST 200

IRD 304

International Relations and Development Research Methods II: 6 ECTS credits.

This course builds upon the first part of the Research Methods course, briefly revisiting the topics of literature review, hypothesis formulation, variable operationalization, and sampling, and proceeding to more in-depth study and application of both qualitative and quantitative methods of primary data collection and analysis. The focus of the course centers on surveys, interviews, focus groups and experiments. Students will continue to work on their research projects, deepening their literature reviews and conducting more elaborate primary data collection and analysis.

Prerequisite(s): IRD 100, IRD 101, IRD 102, IRD 301

IRD 321

International Law: 6 ECTS credits. This class is designed to introduce you to the concepts of public international law, or the law between and among states and other international actors, such as organizations. A basic knowledge of the legal discipline is required as a prerequisite. We will begin with a brief history of modern international law, viewing the sovereign state as the primary actor on the international stage. We will then study sources of international law, including treaties and customary international law, and look at issues surrounding modern statehood. Special attention will be given to the increasingly influential role of intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations in the globalized world. Throughout, we will look at various case examples as well as current events which illustrate the fundamental issues in public international law.

IRD 360

International Relations and Development Practicum I: 6 ECTS credits. This course will provide the academic and theoretical preparation to students who are or will soon be doing their practicum.

IRD/CST 400/SOC 402

Violence and Non-violence: 6 ECTS credits. Theories of the root causes of violence are analyzed. Non-violent approaches to conflict are explored. The psychology and sociology of violence and non-violence are investigated so as to provide insights and tools for non-violent management of conflict. Historical and modern cases of violence and non-violence of various scope from interpersonal to intergroup to international scope are addressed.

Prerequisite(s): CST 200, CST 310

IRD/CST/SOC 401

Nonviolent Social Movements: 6 ECTS credits. The course is dedicated to the study of civic movements that transform political, social, environmental and other situations. It will cover nonviolence theory and numerous historical and contemporary cases. Considerable attention will be paid to the recent research on the role that nonviolent methods play in major political and social transitions. Underlying topics include nonviolent strategy, role of the media and communications, artistic expression, construction of power, inhibiting and supporting factors for the movement's success. Students will follow the ongoing civic action in the world, identify areas of anticipated change, and create their own campaigns.

Prerequisite(s): CST 300

IRD 410

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

IRD 470

International Relations and Development Practicum: 15 ECTS credits. This course provides supervised work experience designed to apply academic concepts to actual real-world International Relations and Development situations. Assignments cover various aspects of International Relations and Development careers. The student should find a suitable work assignment and a faculty supervisor to develop a learning plan. This plan should be approved by the student's faculty advisor, employer and by the Practicum Coordinator (or Program Director).

IRD 476

International Relations and Development Practicum II: 9 ECTS credits.

This course provides supervised work experience designed to apply academic concepts to actual real-world International Relations and Development situations. Assignments cover various aspects of International Relations and Development careers. The student should find a suitable work assignment and a faculty supervisor to develop a learning plan. This plan should be approved by the student's faculty advisor, employer and by the Practicum Coordinator (or Program Director).

IRD 479

Thesis Research and Proposal: 6 ECTS credits.

This course will emphasize instruction in research methods and the development of a thesis proposal which will include a statement of a context and rationale, a detailed review of literature and a description of the research plan to be used in the completion of the thesis. This includes the construction of a Thesis Problem Statement, the analysis and statement of subproblems, the location of resources, collaboration with an advisor, the synthesis and critical analysis of secondary information, the design of a plan for original research to address a specific need in the area of research, and the production of a culminating academic Thesis Proposal. The oral presentation of an original position and the defense of that position are a secondary emphasis.

IRD 487

Thesis Research and Proposal: 9 ECTS credits. This course will emphasize instruction in research methods and the development of a thesis proposal which will include a statement of a context and rationale, a detailed review of literature and a description of the research plan to be used in the completion of the thesis. This includes the construction of a Thesis Problem Statement, the analysis and statement of subproblems, the location of resources, collaboration with an advisor, the synthesis and critical analysis of secondary information, the design of a plan for original research to address a specific need in the area of research, and the production of a culminating academic Thesis Proposal. The oral presentation of an original position and the defense of that position are a secondary emphasis.

IRD 491

Thesis Writing and Defense: 6 ECTS credits. In this course, students complete the research and writing of the thesis based on the Thesis Proposal prepared in IRD 487. Research techniques studied in previous methodology courses as well as reviewed during IRD 487 (Thesis Research and Proposal), such as quantitative or qualitative research purposes and methods, will be required. This completion process includes the execution of a design for original research and the reliable and ethical implementation of that plan. The thesis—approved for defense—will be publicly presented at an oral defense in front of an evaluating committee. Therefore, presentation techniques and authoritative and confident response to academic challenges will be practiced.

IRD 492 (for students who entered LCC prior Spring 2019)

Thesis Writing and Defense: 9 ECTS credits. In this course, students complete the research and writing of the thesis based on the Thesis Proposal prepared in IRD 479. Research techniques studied in previous methodology courses as well as reviewed during IRD 479 (Thesis Research and Proposal), such as quantitative or qualitative research purposes and methods, will be required. This completion process includes the execution of a design for original research and the reliable and ethical implementation of that plan. The thesis—approved for defense—will be publicly presented at an oral defense in front of an evaluating committee. Therefore, presentation techniques and authoritative and confident response to academic challenges will be practiced.

CST 200

Introduction to Conflict Studies: 3 ECTS credits. The course provides an overview of the interdisciplinary field of conflict studies: its origins, development, leading topics and applications. It will provide students with an understanding of conflict, violence, justice and peace as well as the factors of religion, culture and gender. Students will assess their existing personal beliefs and behaviors in conflict, and start developing more constructive pathways.

CST 210

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

CST 300

Conflict Analysis: 6 ECTS credits. The course focuses on the basic concepts and dynamics of conflict. Key topics include: the origins, goals, power, styles, identity, culture, assessment, intervention and transformation. The course enables students to analyze conflicts at a personal and social level, and seek better resolutions.
Prerequisite(s): CST 200

Prerequisite(s): CST 300

CST/PSY/SOC 430

Group Dynamics: 6 ECTS credits. This course studies the nature of group tasks, interpersonal relationships in groups, interactions within and between groups and group leadership. It covers multiple aspects of group life and allows the student to apply theoretical knowledge to different types of groups in real life: family, business, educational, and others.
Prerequisite(s): CST 200, CST 300 or any 3rd or 4th level Psychology or Sociology class.

CST 460

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

HIS 123

History of World Civilizations: 6 ECTS credits. History of World Civilizations is an integrated study of civilizations of the modern world, how they developed, and how they interacted with each other.
Prerequisite(s): None.

HIS 210

Introduction to Music History: 6 ECTS credits. Major musical styles and historical periods are examined. The course acquaints students with musical examples and the significant composers from each period. Anyone interested in learning how to listen to music with greater perception and understanding is welcome. Prior ability to read music is not required.
Prerequisite(s): HIS 123

HIS 221

Baltic History: 6 ECTS credits. Baltic history to the present day is briefly overviewed. The twentieth century developments and their implications are emphasized. Prerequisite(s): HIS 123

HIS 250

Introduction to Art History: 6 ECTS credits. The development of artistic expressions is analyzed, from pre-history to the twentieth century. Examination of historically important examples of painting, sculpture, and architecture from each of the major stylistic periods is included.

HIS 301

International Relations: 6 ECTS credits. An analysis of crucial elements in the nature and behavior of nation states. Topics include Levels of Analysis, Realism and Idealism, Power, National Interests, Diplomacy, Foreign Policy, War and Peace, and International Law, Economics, and Organizations.

IRD 315

International Political Economy: 6 ECTS credits. This course will open the large questions on economic development. There will be some theoretical work and some case studies. For example: Why did some countries become rich without help? Other countries have had help and they are still poor. Is there a pattern? Why do so many development strategies fail? Why do failing development programs get tried again and again? What are the strategies that can bring success to countries that are now poor? How does a country develop a civil society? Is globalization the problem? Does the WTO help? Do some cultures retard development? Countries in former Soviet areas are "in transition" and some are recovering faster than others. How can the recovery be accelerated?

HIS 321

Recent European History, 1815-1914: 6 ECTS credits. The history of Europe from the Congress of Vienna to World War I is studied. Particular attention is paid to the development of liberalism, nationalism, socialism, democracy, science and technology.

The Industrial Revolution, economic growth, and the increasing complexity of international relations leading to World War I also receive detailed examination.

HIS 322

Recent European History, 1914 to the Present: 6 ECTS credits. Students examine Europe from the Paris Peace conference to the current situation. The course stresses socio-political and cultural topics, the impact of World War I, communist and fascist revolutions, loss of European significance after World War II, and the re-emergence of the New Europe in the 1990's.

IRD 325

Understanding the European Union: 6 ECTS credits. With deeper integration and further enlargement, it is becoming more and more difficult to understand what the European Union (EU) is, whom it is for, how it is run, and how it will work with up to 28 members. The original peace objective might today also be hard to discern. And will the EU's future be determined by (a few) member states, the Commission, business groups, its citizens or by external factors? A basic understanding of the EU is becoming increasingly important in light of Lithuania's membership, irrespective of whether one opts for government jobs or the private sector.

Prerequisites: HIS 123

HIS 341

History of Educational Thought: 6 ECTS credits. Educational ideas and values of several major thinkers and cultures within the western tradition are examined. Various educational ideas are analyzed in their own context and from a biblical perspective.

IRD 350

Civil Society in Eastern Europe: 6 ECTS credits. Political and philosophical concepts are discussed within the context of material and historical realities of everyday life. Utilizing film and literature as well as history, sociology and philosophy, the course will examine the current state of civil society in Eastern Europe, changes in civil society during the period of Soviet occupation, the re-establishment of civil society, and the manner in which individual choice and worldview reflects the presence or absence of civil society.

HIS 355

Christian Perspectives on Government, Politics, and Civil Society: 6 ECTS credits. This course begins with an assessment of Biblical perspectives on the proper role and place of government in God's world—its central tasks and obligations as well as its limitations. The nature of civil society and its importance to a well-functioning society and polity are then examined. The interdependence of civil society and democratic principles and practices is then discussed (e.g., the rule of law, the free press, and their rights and responsibilities). Finally, whether and how the international community could foster civil society and democracy is considered.

HIS 410

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

CST 304

Conflict Transformation and Civic Engagement: 6 ECTS credits. The course provides an overview of the interdisciplinary fields of conflict studies and civil society: their origins, developments, leading topics and applications. The course analyses the complex definitions of peace, justice, violence and conflict. It distinguishes among conflict resolution, management and transformation and focuses on civic agency and Track Two diplomacy. It emphasizes civic peacemaking and conflict transformation, and helps students envision capacity for social change and assess personal skills of conflict transformation. It discusses civic engagement and civil society as theory and practice.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

ART 100

Arts and Culture: 6 ECTS credits. This course is an introduction to fine arts in which students explore various artistic media such as visual art, literature, and music through a multicultural perspective. The course gives students the opportunity to experience various art forms and to respond with wisdom, humility and clarity to questions and issues of the human condition. Students are given the opportunity to practice the art of informed listening, looking, and reading.

ENG 113

Written Composition: 6 ECTS credits. In this course, students will develop the skills necessary for understanding and writing texts in an academic setting. With the goal of effectively communicating ideas and arguments, students will build strategies for writing fluent paragraphs and essays, in a variety of rhetorical modes. Students will read, write, revise, and edit both their own compositions, and the work of others. The course focuses on two areas: 1) building critical thinking skills, and 2) developing competencies to write analytical essays

ENG 114

Academic Writing: 6 ECTS credits. Academic Writing is a required course for all first year students. The course focuses on introductory research writing processes, as well as critical reading and thinking skills. Assignments integrate information from a variety of sources, including textual and field research. Students will learn basic writing formats for academic research papers, including appropriate documentation styles and acknowledgment of sources for academic integrity.

ENG 131

Introduction to Literature: 6 ECTS credits. This course introduces the student to the study of short fiction, drama, novel and poetry in English. Students engage in critical and analytical study of these genre with the purpose of increasing understanding and enjoyment as well as proficiency with English language. Special attention is given to the practice of critical writing and the interpretation of text. Students develop effective written communication through the production of a number of short essays.

ENG 210

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

ENG 220

Grammar: 3 ECTS credits. This course examines the form, function, and usage of English grammar. Students will study grammar both from the point of view of language learners, and also from the points of view of language teachers. Grammatical topics will include tenses, modals, word forms, and parallelism. The course may include coordination and subordination of complex and compound sentences, voice, conditionals, prepositions, articles and punctuation. As students review grammar points for their own understanding, they will all be challenged to understand what grammatical topics are problematic for language learners and learn appropriate ways to present grammar in English language classrooms.

ENG 236

Modern World Literature: From Renaissance to Contemporary: 6 ECTS credits Thematic studies of European and diasporic literature since 1700, using canonical works by Voltaire, Goethe, Tolstoy, Kafka, Ibsen, Solzhenitsyn, Beckett and others. The syllabus will always include a unit on postcolonial literature and theory, using works by authors such as Achebe, Naipaul, Saleh, Rhys, Mukerjee, Marquez. Prerequisite(s): ENG131

ENG 240

Readings in American Literature: 6 ECTS credits. This course is a survey over the full range of North American literature including drama, poetry, short fiction stories, novels, and essays. Students will analyze works according genre and will place these works into their historical and cultural contexts. Prerequisite(s): ENG 131

ENG 269

Language Acquisition: 6 ECTS credits. This course gives students an introductory overview of how second language (L2) is acquired. The course aims to 1) familiarize students with terms used to describe how language is learned and acquired 2) survey the major L2 acquisition theories, 3) approach acquisition through linguistic, social and psychological perspectives, 4) examine usage of language in different contexts, 5) identify components of language knowledge, and 6) explore implications for L2 learning and teaching. Special attention will be paid to past and current SLA researchers and how their studies have shaped understanding of how second language is acquired. The course gives students and opportunity to focus on a particular aspect of L2 acquisition more deeply through writing a literature review. Prerequisite(s): ENG 271

ENG 271

Introduction to Linguistics: 6 ECTS credits. The course provides an introductory level overview of formal, psycholinguistic and sociolinguistic aspects of language study. Formal topics include fundamentals of phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, and pragmatics. Psycholinguistic topics cover first and second language acquisition, child bilingualism, adult language processing, as well as brain anatomy and its language-related functions. Sociolinguistic topics aim at examining such areas of linguistic study as language variation, language change, and language contact. The emphasis is placed on English language and its dialects. Prerequisite(s): ENG 113, ENG 114

ENG 274

Structure of Language: 6 ECTS credits. This course is a follow up to, and elaboration on, the brief look at structural linguistics which students received in ENG 271. The class lays the foundational structural analysis skills for translators and language teachers. In addition language analysis tools are presented which aid the future acquisition of additional languages for students. Prerequisite(s): ENG 271

ENG 281

Introduction to Translation & Interpretation: 6 ECTS credits. This course is a general survey of the methods and concepts of translation and interpretation followed by a number of individual projects that are aimed to introduce specific procedures in preparation and handling of various translation and interpretation tasks as well as skills and strategies required of translators and interpreters. The course is aimed at bridging the gap between the "intuitive" level of translation/interpretation and the linguistically grounded approach to it. This course also presents translation and interpretation as a cross-cultural event and teaches the students how to decode the underlying meaning behind a written or spoken discourse in the source language (SL) and express it more accurately in the receptor language (RL).

ENG/LTH 303

Contemporary Lithuanian Literature: 6 ECTS credits. This course acquaints students with modern Lithuanian literature created in the last several years. It includes not only a general study of the historical and cultural situation, but also a detailed study of some main writers and writings. During the course, students read and analyze examples of contemporary poetry, prose (novels, short stories) and drama. Detailed study of literary works helps understand the changes in the country, learn cultural background, questions contemporary perceptions of the world and review language usage of Lithuanian. Prerequisite(s): LTH 201, LTH 202 or LTH 212

ENG 304

Literary Research Methods: 6 ECTS credits. The course takes an in-depth approach to analyzing literature by reviewing literary criticism of several texts. The students will be exposed to different analytical focuses (such as plot, characterization, imagery) and various kinds of critical approaches (such as psychoanalytic, deconstructionist, feminist). The course is intended to offer models of literary criticism especially for students wishing to write a thesis or capstone project on a literary topic. Prerequisite(s): Juniors and Seniors only

ENG 305

Language Research Methods: 6 ECTS credits. The course introduces students to the theoretical and descriptive aspects of qualitative and quantitative research methods and provides them with specific guidelines on how to design their own qualitative and quantitative studies. In addition to this, the course provides several models for qualitative and quantitative language data analysis/coding and introduces the basics of descriptive and inferential statistics using actual language data. Students receive guidance on how to present their research in writing. This course also teaches how to evaluate previously done research by carefully examining the internal/external validity and reliability of a given study. Prerequisite(s): Juniors and Seniors only

ENG 310

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

ENG 311

Expository Writing: 6 ECTS credits. This is an advanced course in writing that emphasizes mastering standard written English, cultivating a personal style and writing for an audience. In the process of writing personal, informative, persuasive and research essays, students learn the skills of brainstorming, outlining, revising and editing. The course prepares students for thesis and other academic writing, as well as for personal and professional writing after graduation. Prerequisite(s): ENG 113, ENG 114

ENG 312

Journalistic Writing: 6 ECTS credits. Students will learn the journalistic style of writing, experience the work of a reporter and become acquainted with the occupation of a journalist. Students will write in the various genres of journalism such as feature stories, news, learn to keep up with current events and work with deadlines through a variety of assignments. The course also considers the ethical aspects of journalism. Prerequisite(s): ENG 113, ENG 114

ENG/LTH 313

Comparative Linguistics (Lithuanian and English): 6 ECTS credits. This course examines morpho-syntactic differences and similarities between Lithuanian and English grammars. It begins with a formal overview of the current theories and the most significant topics in the field of morphology (e.g. word formation processes, typology of morphemes, etc.). Each topic in morphology is illustrated using examples from English and Lithuanian grammars. The second part of the course focuses on the relationship between morphology and syntax and provides an overview of various syntactic operations (e.g. verb movement, wh- movement, etc.). English and Lithuanian grammars are compared as points of illustration for the syntactic phenomena under study. Throughout the course students are engaged in the morpho- syntactic analyses of English and Lithuanian grammars.

Prerequisite(s): LTH 202 or LTH 212

ENG/LTH 314

Stylistic Editing: 6 ECTS credits. This course teaches the theoretical principles of written text editing through practical workshops with translations from English. Students focus on the stylistic aspects of text, editing skills, and developing an individual style.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 281, ENG 372

ENG/BIB 315

Hebrew Wisdom and Poetry: 6 ECTS credits. The nature of Old Testament wisdom is examined in this course, with particular attention given to its treatment of the more vexing problems of life. Of note are the meaning of life, love and hate, pain and human suffering. The course provides a reflective and interdisciplinary study of selections from Job, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, the Psalms and Habakkuk.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 131, BIB 200

ENG 321

Writing Poetry, Short Fiction and Drama: 6 ECTS credits. This course provides instruction in the writing of creative non-fiction, poetry, short fiction and/or drama. Students read samples of published writing, practice in and out-of-class writing and give feedback on each other's work. The course culminates with the publication of a collection of student writing samples.

Prerequisite(s): ENG, ENG 114, ENG 131

ENG 322

North American Ethnic Literature: European Diaspora: 6 ECTS credits. The course is designed to introduce the students to select ethnic literary texts written by North American writers. All these writers have roots in Europe, either as immigrants, like Gary Shteyngart, who moved to America from Russia, or as descendants of immigrants, like Irene Guilford, whose parents came to Canada from Lithuania. Most of these writers are our contemporaries, and they explore what it means to struggle for a cultural identity within 20th century America. At the same time they revisit the countries of their or their parents' origin either in person, or through their characters, and thus present themselves as ethnic Americans with distinct and varied European-American identities.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 113, ENG 131

ENG 323

TV Drama: 6 ECTS credits. This course is designed to familiarize students with various techniques and features of visual storytelling. The students will learn the key concepts in the field of TV drama, namely genre, narrative, realism, representation, ideology, institution and audience. Special attention will be paid to such genres as television series, comedy-drama and sitcom. We will watch and analyze episodes of such TV series as Scrubs and Northern Exposure to learn about the conventions and innovations in the genre of medical drama. We will compare the narrative and visual components in the popular sitcoms, such as Seinfeld, The Nanny and Will & Grace. We will discuss the issues tackled in the iconic American TV dramas Sex and the City and Madmen. The course is interdisciplinary and fits into the categories of English studies, Cultural studies, and Media studies.

ENG 340

Readings in British Literature: 6 ECTS credits. This course surveys representative literature from all periods of British literature including such authors as Chaucer, Shakespeare, Milton, Spenser, Blake, Wordsworth, Keats, the Bronte, Dickens, Tennyson, Hardy, Yeats, Joyce, Lawrence, Eliot, Woolf, Shaw, Becket, Heaney, Rushdie. In the context of Great Britain's history and evolving culture, issues such as Darwinian evolution, the enfranchisement of women, relief for the working class and the burden of empire considered. An attempt is made to give equal attention to poetry, drama and prose fiction.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 131

ENG 342

Dramatic Literature: 6 ECTS credits. This course offers a survey of dramas representing the European tradition from the ancient world to the postmodern present. Authors include Sophocles, Shakespeare, Moliere, Shaw, Ibsen, Tennessee Williams, Caryl Churchill and others. Units of study focus on tragedies, comedies, social problem plays and postmodern tragicomedies. Some attention is given to the way the plays interact with their historical and cultural contexts, but more attention is paid to drama as a literary and performance genre and therefore to the special skills and knowledge required to understand drama. Analysis of the style, structure and meanings of dramatic texts includes consideration of how their historical and contemporary stagings reveal alternate meanings. As possible, plays are viewed in production on stage and in films, and scenes are read aloud in the classroom.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 131

ENG/BIB 343

The English Bible as Literature: 6 ECTS credits. The English Bible is a fascinating work of art, influencing and shaping literary culture. This course is an exploration of this Bible's variety of literary genre in historical, literary, and social contexts. This genre will also be critically read and analyzed in relation to the larger complex yet unified text of the whole Bible, the foundational document for the Jewish and Christian faith traditions.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, BIB 201

ENG 345 Curriculum Design: 6 ECTS credits. This course introduces students to the step-by-step process of designing a curriculum for an English language course. Concentrating on the communicative language teaching (CLT) approach to language teaching, students will learn to assess language learner's needs before making any decisions about the approach, content, and structure of the course. Students will define learning goals, articulate objectives, create a syllabus, as well as design learning unit and individual lesson plans.

ENG 346 Sociolinguistics: 6 ECTS credits. This course will familiarize students with the study of sociolinguistics within an anthropological perspective, including discussion of some of the presuppositions of the science of anthropology. Sociolinguistic issues, such as language diversity and language identity, will be addressed. Students will be introduced to the complex and dynamic relationships between culture, gender and language.

ENG/REL 350

Faith Themes in Literature: 6 ECTS credits. This course is a thematic study of short fiction, drama, novel, and poetry. Using biblical texts and theological themes as foundational material, students will engage in critical and analytical study of various literary works, via discussion, written critique and review, and formal essay. Focus areas: A wide range of genres, authors, and time periods are explored in the course, connected carefully by thematic comparison.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, BIB 201

ENG 351

Phonetics and Phonology: 6 ECTS credits. The course in phonetics is primarily useful for students of linguistics as well as those who are concerned with studying the sounds of English speech at an advanced level. The purpose of the course is to analyze how speech sounds are produced in English (i.e. phonetics). This information is presented in the context of a general theory about speech sounds and how they are used in the language system (i.e. phonology). Students will analyze English phonemes and their classification, master correct pronunciation models in words, phrases and longer utterances, and raise their awareness of the interdependence between intonation and stress and rhythm. In addition, students will acquire knowledge of the phonology of English as an international language, and get acquainted with different English accents and dialects. The primary goal of the practical part of the course is to develop the learner's production and reception skills to increase the effectiveness of their communication in English.

ENG 361

TESOL Methods: 6 ECTS credits. The course is an overview of orientations and approaches to second and foreign language teaching. Historical contexts and recent research in the field of second and foreign language acquisition and instruction is studied. The course is developed for pre-service teachers, challenging them to develop a personal philosophy of English language teaching appropriate to the setting in which they will be teaching.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 271

ENG 369

TESOL Practicum I: 9 ECTS credits. This course provides a practical component for students enrolled in ENG 361. Pre-service teachers (LCC students) serve as observers, teacher-assistants, and teachers of English in local Klaipėda schools. Students are challenged to link theoretical knowledge with current practices of teaching English as a foreign language.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 361 is a prerequisite or co-requisite.

ENG 370

Principles of Interpretation (Lithuanian): 6 ECTS credits.

This course introduces the principles of linguistics as applied to the special concerns of interpreting oral discourse with an emphasis on practicing interpreting from Lithuanian into English and vice versa. The course also introduces various strategies for listening, speaking, and vocabulary building from which students will choose the ones that work best for them and use in their own interpretation work.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 281

ENG 372

Principles of Translation (Lithuanian): 6 ECTS credits. This course introduces students to the principles of linguistics as applied to the special concerns of translating written discourse with an emphasis on practicing translation from Lithuanian into English and vice versa. The course also introduces various strategies for translation and vocabulary building from which students will choose the ones that work best for them and use in their own translation work.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 281

ENG 373

Principles of Interpretation (Russian): 6 ECTS credits. This course introduces the principles of linguistics as applied to the special concerns of interpreting oral discourse with an emphasis on practicing interpreting from Russian into English and vice versa. The course also introduces various strategies for listening, speaking, and vocabulary building from which students will choose the ones that work best for them and use in their own interpretation work.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 281

ENG 374

Principles of Translation (Russian): 6 ECTS credits. This course introduces students to the principles of linguistics as applied to the special concerns of translating written discourse with an emphasis on practicing translation from Russian into English and vice versa. The course also introduces various strategies for translation and vocabulary building from which students will choose the ones that work best for them and use in their own translation work.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 281

ENG/REL/COM 404

Faith and Film: 6 ECTS credits.

In today's world, significant public discussions about the meaning of life, hope, and faith are often centered on films rather than on written texts. This class will study a wide variety of films some of which deal with faith issues directly or indirectly. We will ask how Christian theology contributes to our understanding of these films, and how they reflect the religious beliefs and aspirations present in our society.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, BIB 201

ENG/COM 403

Semiotics and Culture: 6 ECTS credits. Our lives are dominated by the manner we create, negotiate, and respond to signs. They are central to our communicative practices and how we represent and make meaning out of the world around us. This course proceeds from the question "what are the cultural functions of our signifying practices?" and studies answers to this inquiry via semiotics – the study of signs. Possible thematic units and conceptual foci include: structural linguistics; how signs produce meaning like a language; how the viewer experiences and practices the production of meaning via looking; how the power/knowledge matrix produces and sustains the semiotic field; modern myth-making; how the symbolic order of signs interacts with the subject structurally and linguistically (i.e. the study of psychoanalysis); how the mass media and the public sphere harness semiotic power; how commodity culture applies semiotic insights for branding and addressing the consumer; how the natural and technological sciences use images for evidence, advocacy, and politics; and, how identities (cultural, sexual, ethnic, socio-economic, etc.) rely upon signifying practices to produce and nourish themselves.

Prerequisite(s): Juniors and Seniors

ENG 410

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

ENG 414 Editing and Revising Skills: 6 ECTS credits. The course introduces students to skills of an in-house editor working on texts written by others and preparing them for a specific readership, as well as skills of an in-house reviser wishing to improve the translations of others. Most of these skills are transferable to a freelance editor and reviser. The course also helps students improve their ability to recognize and analyze flawed written English and then produce grammatically accurate, coherent, concise, and stylistically appropriate revision with the overall objective to improve editing/revising skills and, therefore, writing/translations.

ENG 421

The Novel: 6 ECTS credits. This seminar on the Novel will offer opportunities for students to analyze in some depth various longer works of prose fiction, including a Romance, a Dystopia, works of Realism and Ethnic Regionalism, and aspects of the Developmental Novel and Postcolonial Lyrical Realism. We will look at ways of reading such fiction, especially how to read a work according to its own implied assumptions and their limitations.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 131 and any other literature course

ENG 431

20th Century Literature: 6 ECTS credits. The literature of the twentieth century is, perhaps, most remarkable for its diversity. In its range, it defies easy classifications. Strongly influenced by nineteenth century philosophy, by extraordinary historical events—two world wars, the Jewish holocaust, the dropping of the atomic bomb, a worldwide depression—and by an explosion of science and technology, the twentieth century was one of change. Nevertheless, in an attempt to understand our world by looking at the outstanding literature of the last century, the class will approach the century through its quest to understand freedom, identity, justice and meaning.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 131 and any other literature course

ENG 440

Ancient and Medieval World Literature: 6 ECTS credits. The chronological study of classic texts from the ancient, medieval and Renaissance periods. Works by Homer, Sophocles, Plato, Augustine, Dante, Machiavelli, Shakespeare, Cervantes and others will help clarify the origins of western ideas and literary traditions as they have evolved into the contemporary world. This is a foundational study for understanding the humanist and Christian humanist underpinnings of western civilization.

ENG 455

Shakespeare: 6 ECTS credits. In this course students will read and interpret 5-7 major plays. Although choices will vary from one offering to another, the syllabus always includes at least two each of comedies and tragedies, and at least one history play and one romance. Initial consideration is given to the way the texts of the plays interacted with the history, culture and stage conventions of the Elizabethan and Jacobean periods of English literature. Always, emphasis is placed on how poetry, images, dramatic structure and staging determine meanings in the plays.

Further study yields insights into the master narratives of gender, class, race, politics and worldview of the periods as reflected in Shakespeare's work, as well as possible ways in which the texts question those assumptions. Normally, each play will be viewed and analyzed in a stage or film production of it. As possible, students will participate in classroom readings and productions of crucial scenes from the plays. Prerequisite(s): ENG 131 and any other literature course.

ENG 469

Language Assessment: 6 ECTS credits. Language assessment is the dynamic study of language testing and evaluation of language competences. Assessment encompasses many types of language evaluation including formative and summative assessments, subjective and objective item types, and alternative assessments. This course gives students a foundational understanding of assessment on a theoretical level by studying the principles of validity and reliability; students will also gain practical knowledge about tests and testing for use inside classrooms in other situations that require language testing.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 361

ENG 479

Thesis Research and Proposal: 6 ECTS credits. This course will emphasize instruction in research methods and the development of a thesis proposal which will include a statement of a context and rationale, a detailed review of literature and a description of the research plan to be used in the completion of the thesis. This includes the construction of a Thesis Problem Statement, the analysis and statement of subproblems, the location of resources, collaboration with an advisor, the synthesis and critical analysis of secondary information, the design of a plan for original research to address a specific need in the area of research, and the production of a culminating academic Thesis Proposal. The oral presentation of an original position and the defense of that position are a secondary emphasis.

Prerequisites: ENG 271, ENG 304 or 305, ENG 311

ENG 487

Thesis Research and Proposal: 9 ECTS credits. This course will guide students to read extensively in their chosen field, to craft a literature review, to design a research project, and to write a research proposal. First, in order to prepare for doing research, students will read extensively in their field and document their comprehension by writing an annotated bibliography which will be developed into a full literature review. Then, using this knowledge and the help of their advisor, each student will design a research project with methodology appropriate to their study. Students will construct thesis questions, a context and rationale for their own research, along with the necessary IRB approval (if needed) with the aim of completing the thesis in the spring term. Students will present their research proposal to a panel of faculty for review and comments.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 304 or ENG 305, ENG 311

ENG 482

Translation Practicum: 6 ECTS credits. The students will engage in a supervised work experience in an agency or organization approved by LCC that would offer them an opportunity to develop their translation skills. Students will explore independently the organizational framework of a professional translator by applying translation theory to practice.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 370/372 or ENG 373/374, ENG 281

ENG 485

English Practicum: 9 ECTS credits. This course is a practicum in which students earn academic credits for actual work and practice in fields related to literary and pedagogical activity of all sorts, including among other options, writing, publishing, editing, criticism, advertising, teaching, and public communications. In their practicum projects, students are challenged to link theoretical knowledge with productive praxis. Through task-based projects students learn practical aspects of working with language as a creative yet professionally grounded effort. Both the instructor and the student may propose projects; however, all projects must be approved by the instructor. Examples of projects include: serving as editor of the school newspaper; teaching in LCC summer camps, directing a dramatic production; doing literary research, or submitting fiction stories to a peer reviewed publication; editing and/or writing advertising copy; building a website or blog site for fiction, poetry, and/or literary reviews; publishing film criticism; organizing a literary events (such as a poetry slam), presenting independent literary-related academic research at an academic conference, and so on.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 240 or ENG 340, and ENG 236

ENG 491

Thesis Writing and Defense: 6 ECTS credits. In this course students will complete the research and writing of the thesis based on the Thesis Proposal prepared in ENG 487. Advanced research techniques will be required. This process includes the completion of a design for original research and the reliable and ethical implementation of that plan. For most this requires knowledge of quantitative and qualitative research purposes and methods and for others the design of an experimental model. The approved thesis will be presented at a public oral defense. Therefore, presentation techniques and authoritative and confident response to academic challenges will be practiced.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 487

ENG 493

Final Project: 3 ECTS credits.

In this course, students will use their knowledge of research methods to design a research project related to the field of English language. This course will guide students through the ideas and arguments of the topic, appropriate research methods, a statement of a context and rationale, a review of literature and a description of the research plan. This process includes the reliable and ethical implementation of research. This requires knowledge of quantitative or qualitative research purposes and methods. The approved final paper will be presented at an oral defense. Therefore, presentation techniques and authoritative and confident response to academic challenges will be practiced.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 304 or 305

GER 101

German I: 6 ECTS credits. This course is designed for students who have no previous knowledge of German. This course provides a solid base in vocabulary and the structure of the language. Students develop a basic understanding of the language through reading, writing and speaking. Students also learn about German-speaking countries and their people, as well as the value of the German language as it relates to business, travel and recreation.

GER 102

German II: 6 ECTS credits. An emphasis on more vocabulary studies and writing skills is provided in this course. Listening comprehension and group discussions improve the student's pronunciation and speaking ability. Cultural studies of German-speaking countries continue.

Prerequisite(s): GER 101

GER 201

Intermediate German: 6 ECTS credits. Opportunities for more oral communication are given in this course, but an equal emphasis on writing skills, vocabulary studies and the application of correct grammatical structure are included. Group discussions and individual presentations serve to improve the student's fluency in oral communication.

Prerequisite(s): GER 102

GER 202

Advanced German Communication: 6 ECTS credits. Conversational practice is emphasized in this course. Selections of prose and poetry direct the students into the study of German literature. Other resources that deal with German culture, history and politics focus on the current events of German-speaking countries.

Prerequisite(s): GER 201

IDS 210

IDS 100

First Year Seminar: 0 ECTS credits. This course is designed to introduce new students to higher education and LCC. The goal of First Year Seminar is for students to examine issues and develop a sense of competence in the areas of: academics, interpersonal relationships, community involvement, human diversity, career development, and personal values. The course provides a supportive environment for interactive and group learning. Reading, writing, and participatory activities are designed to develop skills in the following areas: reading, writing, oral communication, use of technology, and critical thinking.

Prerequisite(s): first year student

MTH 101

College Algebra: 6 ECTS credits: The fundamental concepts of algebra are reviewed: linear equations and inequalities, functions and graphs, polynomial and quadratic functions, exponential and logarithmic functions, systems of linear and non-linear equations, matrices and determinants, arithmetic and geometric series and the binomial theorem.

MTH 102

Quantitative Reasoning: 6 ECTS credits. The purpose of a liberal arts course in mathematics should not be to prepare the student to be an accountant or a nurse. The course selects topics that mathematicians actually pursue in their research such as number theory, infinity, topology, probability, chaos, and fractals. This is not a review of secondary school mathematics but an excursion into subjects that will both challenge and excite the student.

LITHUANIAN STUDIES

LTH 101

Introductory Lithuanian I: 6 ECTS credits. This course is designed for students who have no previous knowledge of Lithuanian. Students learn basic communication skills through building a good base in vocabulary, communicative phrases, sentence structures, and some grammar. This course helps develop communication skills that are very important for language learners: comprehension (listening, reading) and speaking. This course is based on practical application of theoretically acquired language knowledge. It also provides an introduction to Lithuanian culture, customs and traditions.

LTH 102

Introductory Lithuanian II: 6 ECTS credits. This is a continuation of LTH 101. This course deliberately focuses on expanding students' vocabulary, learning grammar rules, and applying those tools in communicative situations. Students improve Lithuanian language comprehension through listening and reading simple original texts and speaking skills through making presentations and creating everyday language situations.

Prerequisite(s): LTH 101

LTH 103

Lithuanian Language and Culture: Introductory Lithuanian Language: 8 ECTS credits. This course is designed for students who have no previous knowledge of Lithuanian. Introductory level students will learn basic communication skills through building a good base in vocabulary, communicative phrases, sentence structures, and some grammar. This course will help develop communication skills that are very important for language learners: comprehension (listening, reading) and speaking. Cultural elements of the course (documentary movies, lectures and presentations of guest speakers, visits to local and regional museums) will introduce to historical, cultural, economic and political life of Lithuania and its people. This course includes several field trips and excursions that will act as an introduction to Lithuania and give students opportunity to practically apply their knowledge.

LTH 104

Lithuanian Language and Culture: Lithuanian Language Skills: 8 ECTS credits. This course is designed for students who already have some introductory knowledge of Lithuanian. These upper-level students will improve their grammar knowledge, increase vocabulary, and better develop everyday communication skills. Students will work and learn from originally written texts and audio and visual media. This course will help develop communication skills that are very important for all levels of language learners: comprehension (listening, reading) and speaking. Cultural elements of the course (documentary movies, lectures and presentations of guest speakers, visits to local and regional museums) will introduce to historical, cultural, economic and political life of Lithuania and its people. This course includes several field trips and excursions that will introduce aspects of Lithuania and give students opportunity to practically apply their knowledge.

Lithuanian Language Usage I: 6 ECTS credits. Students with an adequate proficiency in Lithuanian language are exposed to further studies to develop language skills. This course is designed to provide deeper holistic studies of Lithuanian standard language (pronunciation, accentuation, lexis, word-formation, morphology). The course also deepens linguistic knowledge, as well as oral and written Lithuanian language skills in a student's field of study. Students will be able to speak with accuracy and enrich their knowledge of the fundamentals of their mother tongue and language ethics. The course is taught from a practical linguistic perspective. The correct language, enrich their knowledge of the fundamentals of their mother tongue and language ethics. The placement test is required.

LTH 202

Lithuanian Language Usage II: 6 ECTS credits. This course is a continuation of LTH 201 but the emphasis is on oral and written communication. During the course, common syntactical mistakes and spelling and punctuation errors are discussed; requirements of some clerical documents are analyzed. Students present two public speeches and participate in discussions.

Prerequisite(s): LTH 201 or placement test is recommended.

LTH 101

Lithuanian Language Skills I: 6 ECTS credits. This course is designed for students who have introductory knowledge of the Lithuanian as a state language or want to continue learning Lithuanian as a foreign language. This is a first part of Lithuanian state language learning program. During this course, grammar knowledge is deepened, vocabulary is expanded, proper pronunciation is strengthened, and spelling skills are formed. Students analyze and compare various original written and oral texts, and they themselves learn to produce written text and perform oral presentations based on written, visual, and audio materials on various themes. Prerequisite(s): LTH 102 or placement test is recommended.

LTH 111

Lithuanian Language Skills II: 6 ECTS credits This course is designed for students who have not sufficient enough knowledge of the Lithuanian as a state language. This is the second part of Lithuanian state language learning program. Grammar lectures concentrate on applying grammar rules when producing written and oral texts and using dictionaries in order to develop logic and linguistic thinking. In lectures focused on texts analysis, basics of interpretation, and speaking, students strengthen pronunciation and spelling skills, develop and enrich means of linguistic expressions, and learn to discuss various aspects of original, not adapted, literary texts (e.g., novels). Prerequisite(s): LTH 210 or placement test is recommended.

LTH 121

Lithuanian Language Skills III: 6 ECTS credits. This course is designed to develop fluent communication competency in the Lithuanian language. This is the third part of the Lithuanian state language learning program. Students learn to present acquired knowledge in written and oral forms, identify parts of language, and form the most appropriate sentence structure. During this course students develop skills to select and practically use appropriate functional language within professional, public speaking, and document writing scenarios. Students learn to find, compare, and analyze in the text various communicative and linguistic cases. Students learn to analyze form in written and oral literary texts, recognize and evaluate nuances of poetic language of literature, and draw conclusions. Prerequisite(s): LTH 211 or placement test is recommended.

LTH 301

Lithuanian Cultural History (from 20th Century): 6 ECTS credits. The basic characteristics of Lithuanian culture are studied, focusing on literature, art, and music. More detailed studies of cultural changes in the 20th-21st centuries emphasize the formation of Lithuania as a current state. Prerequisite(s): LTH 201 or LTH 202 or LTH 212

LTH 302

Traditional Culture of Baltic People: 6 ECTS credits. The course is designed for students who have interest in the questions related to the genesis of Balts, in the relics of mythological thinking, in historic sources and customs. During this course the main sources of the Baltic religion and mythology are presented, the genesis and functions of Baltic mythological figures are reviewed, and their relics in customs, folklore and language are recognized. Combining theoretical lectures, individual work, and practical workshops, the main Baltic myths, symbols of mythical worldview, and system of customs are analyzed. During the entire course, theoretical aspects are combined with practical experience; students visit expositions and events, participate in guest speaker lectures, and performances by folklore groups. Prerequisite(s): LTH 201 or LTH 202 or LTH 212

LTH/ENG 303

Contemporary Lithuanian Literature: 6 ECTS credits. This course acquaints students with modern Lithuanian literature created in the last several years. It includes not only a general study of the historical and cultural situation, but also a detailed study of some main writers and writings. During the course, students read and analyze examples of contemporary poetry, prose (novels, short stories) and drama. Detailed study of literary works helps understand the changes in the country, learn cultural background, question contemporary perceptions of the world, and review language usage of Lithuanian. Prerequisite(s): LTH 201, LTH 202 or LTH 212

Ethics and Pragmatics of Lithuanian Language: 6 ECTS credits. This course is dedicated to analyzing the ethical and pragmatic aspects of the Lithuanian language. The practical aspect of this course is concentrated on developing skills to apply these aspects in constructing texts, discourses and expressing ideas. In this course students will learn not only how to prepare the appropriate texts but also how to train organs of speech and will practice proper articulation, pronunciation and enunciation during public speeches. The course focuses on specific usage of Lithuanian, developing physical and emotional oratory skills and deliberate distinction of the functional styles and appropriate use of these styles in concrete pragmatic situations. The themes of the course are closely connected with applied linguistics, rhetoric, sociolinguistics, semantics, pragmatic stylistics, and the psycholinguistics. Prerequisite(s): LTH 201 or LTH 202 or LTH 212

PSYCHOLOGY

NAS 100

Introduction to Natural Sciences: 6 ECTS credits. The primary purpose of this course is to introduce students to the scientific method approach to knowledge about the natural world by examining how humans interact with their ecosystem using examples from multiple natural science disciplines. This course will explore the differences between laboratory and field, and experimental and observational approaches to knowledge through guided readings and hands-on research projects. The scientific method will be compared and contrasted to methodologies of other domains, and discussed in terms of Christian worldview.

PSY 122

Introduction to Psychology: 6 ECTS credits. This course is a scientific consideration of the psychological foundations of behavior and mental processes. Topics include psychology as science, the biology of behavior, lifespan development, sensation, perception, consciousness, learning, memory, thinking, language, intelligence, motivation, emotion, personality, mental health and social behavior. During the term, you will learn about empirical and theoretical issues in psychology, however this course will also challenge you to examine your own ideas and beliefs in the light of research and come to a new appreciation of the intricacies of psychology.

PSY 200

Social Psychology: 6 ECTS credits. This course focuses on the scientific field of psychology that seeks to understand the nature and causes of individual behavior and thought in social situations. Readings, lectures, and group projects center around the specific topics of social perception and cognition, attitudes and prejudice, interpersonal attraction and intimate relationships, social influence, prosocial behavior, aggression and in the effects of groups on individuals. Prerequisite(s): PSY 122

PSY 201

Human Development: 6 ECTS credits. Principles and theories of human growth and development are examined, from the time of conception to late adulthood and death. The progression of physical, cognitive, social and personality development is studied through the life span. One credit of this 6 ECTS course will consist of a research project, which will be supervised by the course instructor. The purpose of this project is to increase students' ability to understand and utilize research methods that are relevant to the content of the course. Prerequisite(s): PSY 122

PSY 202

Statistics and Research Methods I: 6 ECTS credits. Together, Statistics and Research Methods I & II present statistical and research design information by integrating the basic analytical tools (descriptive statistics, inferential statistics, non-parametric statistics) with the basic methodology and design knowledge needed to understand and perform research in the behavioral sciences. Topics in Statistics and Research Methods I include, but may not be limited to: research ethics, basics of research design, descriptive statistics, selection and assignment of participants, hypothesis testing, correlational methods and non-experimental methods.

Prerequisite(s): PSY 122

PSY 203

Statistics and Research Methods II: 6 ECTS credits. Together Statistics and Research Methods I & II present statistical and research design information by integrating the basic analytical tools (descriptive statistics, inferential statistics, non-parametric statistics) with the basic methodology and design knowledge needed to understand and perform research in the behavioral sciences. Building on the knowledge from the previous course, topics in this course include, but may not be limited to: inferential statistics (t-test and ANOVA), linear regression, between-and within-subject designs, nonparametric statistics and single case designs.

Prerequisite(s): PSY 202

PSY 210

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

PSY/COM 121

Interpersonal Communication: 6 ECTS credits. This course provides students with a theoretical and practical understanding of effective and ethical communication in interpersonal relationships. Students have the opportunity to apply course material to their own personal and professional relationships.

Prerequisite(s): PSY 122 (for PSY majors)

PSY 231

Advanced Research Statistics: 6 ECTS credits. This course is an extension of PSY 202 Statistics and Research Methods I and PSY 203 Statistics and Research Methods II. The course will focus on advanced statistics and the relationship between various psychological research designs and specific statistical analyses utilized with each design. Particular attention will be paid to correlational designs, multiple regression analysis and logistic regression analysis.

Prerequisite(s): PSY 122, PSY 202, PSY 203

PSY 240

Biological Psychology: 6 ECTS credits. This course is an introduction to, and overview of, the structure and function of the nervous system. Focus areas include but are not limited to the basic structure and function of nerve cells, how they communicate, and how they are arranged into neural circuits and functional systems. The role of specific brain structures and the endocrine system in internal control systems such as sleep, motivated behaviors, emotion, and motor control are covered in-depth.

Prerequisite(s): PSY 122

PSY 253

Anatomy and Physiology: 3 ECTS credits. This course provides an introductory examination of human anatomy and physiology. Course emphasis is on the structure and function of human body systems.

Course content includes basic physiological systems at the cellular and systemic level as well as the appendicular skeletal system and its functional relationship to physiological systems. Major physiological systems such as the circulatory system, the respiratory/pulmonary system, the muscular system and the nervous system will be covered.

PSY 260

Psychology Practicum I: 6 ECTS credits. The course will expose students to a variety of settings in which psychologically-oriented activities take place. The goal of the course is to allow students to explore and better understand the types of work done by psychologists and professionals in related fields. The majority of course time will be devoted to agency visitation and observation. Students will also participate in an experiential project at a local practicum site.

Prerequisite(s): PSY 122

PSY 476

Psychology Practicum II: 9 ECTS credits. The student engages in supervised service in an approved agency or organization. Experience allows students to apply theory to practice in a human service agency, and the seminars focus on self-understanding and professional development, learning about a variety of client populations, and human service agencies. Readings and practical projects are prepared and discussed with the instructor and supervisor. Feedback is given related to student's personal growth and skill development in a professional role.

Prerequisite(s): PSY 122, PSY 200, PSY 201, PSY 303, PSY 307, PSY/COM 221 (Limited to PSY majors).

PSY 479

Thesis Research and Proposal: 6 ECTS credits. This course will emphasize instruction in research methods and the development of a thesis proposal, which will include a statement of a context and rationale, a detailed review of literature and a description of the research method.

Prerequisite(s): PSY 202, PSY 203, PSY 312

PSY 487

Thesis Research and Proposal: 9 ECTS credits. This course will emphasize instruction in research methods and the development of a thesis proposal, which will include a statement of a context and rationale, a detailed review of literature and a description of the research methods. Students will present their proposal for feedback. In addition, students will submit an Institutional Review Board application for research ethics review.

PSY 491

Thesis Writing and Defense: 6 ECTS credits. Students will research and write a thesis based on the Thesis Proposal prepared in PSY 487. Advanced research techniques will be required. The thesis will be presented at a public oral defense.

Prerequisite(s): PSY 487

PSY 493

Final Project Psychology: 3 ECTS credits.

In this course, students will use their knowledge of research methods to design a research project related to the field of Psychology. This course will guide students through the ideas and arguments of the topic, appropriate research methods, a statement of a context and rationale, a review of literature and a description of the research plan. This process includes the reliable and ethical implementation of research. This requires knowledge of quantitative or qualitative research purposes and methods. The approved final paper will be presented at an oral defense. Therefore, presentation techniques and authoritative and confident response to academic challenges will be practiced.

Prerequisite(s): Senior status

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200

BIB 314

Hebrew Prophets: 6 ECTS credits. The origin and nature of the prophetic office are examined. Select books that represent various periods in the life of ancient Israel are analyzed so as to identify the impact of the message upon the prophet's audience. Attention is given to common elements in prophetic literature, particularly to covenant faithfulness, judgment through exile and hope in restoration. The use of this material by NT writers is also noted.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200

BIB/ENG 315

Hebrew Wisdom and Poetry: 6 ECTS credits. The nature of Old Testament wisdom is examined in this course, with particular attention given to its treatment of the more vexing problems of life. Of note are the meaning of life, love and hate, pain and human suffering. The course provides a reflective and interdisciplinary study in the English Bible of selections from Job, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, the Psalms and Habakkuk.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, ENG 131

BIB 321

Introduction to Greek I: 3 ECTS credits. This course will acquaint students with the tools necessary for performing research and study in the original Biblical languages (Greek). Students will learn basic Greek language skills and use these to do research using lexicons, interlinear Bibles, and commentaries. Students will develop greater proficiency in preparation of studies, papers, sermons, and other interpretive tools by learning how to use Bible Study software.

BIB 322

Introduction to Greek II: 3 ECTS credits. This course will build on the language skills gained in the previous course (Greek I). Students will gain more advanced knowledge of the Greek grammar and become capable of translating the selected New Testament texts into English.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 321

BIB 341

Pauline Literature I: 6 ECTS credits. This course will explore Paul of Tarsus's thought, teachings, and practice, as they are available to us in his correspondence to the early churches of Rome, Corinth, and Galatia. Special attention is given to the major historical, literary, and theological aspects of the letters.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 201

BIB/ENG 343

The English Bible as Literature: 6 ECTS credits. The English Bible is a fascinating work of art, influencing and shaping literary culture. This course is an exploration of this Bible's variety of literary genre in historical, literary, and social contexts. This genre will also be critically read and analyzed in relation to the larger complex yet unified text of the whole Bible, the foundational document for the Jewish and Christian faith traditions.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, BIB 201

BIB 344

Synoptic Gospels: 6 ECTS credits. This course examines the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ portrayed in the canonical gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke. It will give consideration to the unique perspective of each Gospel as well as to their common themes by focusing on the literary, textual and theological relationships among them.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 201

BIB 351

Pauline Literature II: 6 ECTS credits. The course will explore the historical, literary, and theological aspects of the Pauline corpus with focus on the following epistles: Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, 1 and 2 Thessalonians, 1 and 2 Timothy, Titus, and Philemon.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, BIB 201, PSY 122

CLM 333

Gospel Communication: 6 ECTS credits. The Gospel is good news that is communicated in a variety of ways. In this course you will study and practice several methods of communicating this good news of Jesus to others. Two of the main methods this course will explore are homiletics and Bible studies. Homiletics is the art of delivering a message (sermon, meditation or talk) based on a passage of the Bible to an audience in a church, camp or some other setting. Leading a small group Bible study involves asking the right questions and knowing when to speak (and when not to). Both require an understanding of the Biblical text and the personal context. The course will give you tools to prepare Bible studies and deliver messages, as well as help you become a better listener and participant in the communication process.

Prerequisites: BIB 200, BIB 201, COM 262

CLM 334

Perspectives on Missiology: 6 ECTS credits. An introduction to the mission of God and the Church. This course examines the Biblical, historical, theological, cultural and strategic dynamics of the expansion and current status of global Christianity. It will also explore various implementation strategies in the task of spreading the Gospel globally.

Prerequisites: BIB 201

CLM 380

The Church: Its Nature, Life and Ministry: 6 ECTS credits. This course examines the Biblical, theological, and historical context of the Church as foundational to a consideration of the Church's life and worship.

Leadership and fellowship within various ecclesiastical traditions receive special attention. Involvement in the life of a congregation is an essential component of the course.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, BIB 201, PHI 341

This course requires a student to be involved in ministry, paired with an instructor for individual guidance through readings, evaluations, and personal counsel. The specifics of each practicum are worked out between the student and instructor, the instructor and the field supervisor as approved by the department.

Prerequisite(s): Junior status

PHI 201

Introduction to Philosophy: 6 ECTS credits. Throughout history, men and women have searched for truth, argued with each other about what is good, and examined their lives and the world for meaning. How do we know what is real or true? Many answers to that question have been proposed throughout the ages. Using texts from the great philosophers, this course gives a brief outline of Western views of knowledge and its basis. Students discuss issues such as the question of the existence of God and the self, as well as epistemological issues such as theories of knowledge.

Prerequisite(s): HIS 123

PHI 210

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

PHI 220

Introduction to Logical Reasoning: 6 ECTS credits. When is an argument actually a good argument, or a belief actually justified? When should we be persuaded by the reasons that others offer for their opinions? How can we express our ideas clearly and respectfully in a debate with those who disagree with us? This course answers these questions by introducing students to basic principles and common fallacies of logical argumentation.

PHI 300

Apologetics: 6 ECTS credits. Apologetics is the practice of defending the Christian world view. In this course students will develop their abilities to engage in this practice well. We will consider the nature of apologetics from a theological and philosophical perspective and engage with the important contemporary challenges to Christianity.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, BIB 201 (or taking concurrently with BIB 201)

PHI 311

Philosophy of Religion: 6 ECTS credits. Many people question whether religious belief is rational. Can religious experiences be trusted? What is the relationship between faith and reason? Does God really exist? Is religious belief irrational in the face of suffering? Does science disprove religion? Religion was criticized as wishful thinking by Freud, and as escapism by Marx. Were they right? We discuss questions like these, primarily in relation to classic Christian beliefs.

Prerequisite(s): PHI 201

PHI/BUS 320

Business Ethics: 6 ECTS credits. Surveys basic Christian concepts of morality with particular application to issues of interest to the business community. Analyzes the elements of moral development and ethical decision-making and their application to representative moral dilemmas.

Prerequisite(s): BUS 102, BIB 200, BIB 201

PHI 341

Worldview and Christian Faith: 6 ECTS credits. This course will examine the Christian worldview in comparison with important alternatives. Special attention will be given to the nature of thinking about worldview issues as well as encouraging the student's own critical reflection upon his or her foundational beliefs.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, BIB 201

PHI 410

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

PHI 435

Ethics: 6 ECTS credits. This course examines the ethical dimension of life in its relation to what we believe, what we do, and what sorts of people we want to be. It studies basic ethical questions such as the objectivity of right and wrong, how we ought to live, and why we should try to be morally good. It considers these questions both theoretically (by studying relevant theories) and practically (by applying them to issues in contemporary social life).

Prerequisite(s): PHI 341

REL 210

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

REL/ENG 350

Faith Themes in Literature: 6 ECTS credits. This course is a thematic study of short fiction, drama, novel, and poetry. Using biblical texts and theological themes as foundational material, students will engage in critical and analytical study of various literary works, via discussion, written critique and review, and formal essay. Focus areas: A wide range of genres, authors, and time periods are explored in the course, connected carefully by thematic comparison.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, BIB 201

REL 361

Religions of the World: 6 ECTS credits. This course surveys the history and distinctive teachings of the major religions including Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism and Buddhism. It gives special attention to the challenge of living in a pluralistic society.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, BIB 201

REL 410

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

THE 210

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

THE 261

History of Christianity: 6 ECTS credits. A survey of the history of Christianity from its origins to the present. Major topics include the early Church, the Ecumenical Councils, monasticism, Orthodoxy, Protestant and Catholic Reformations, secularization, non-Western Christianity, and Twentieth century developments.

Prerequisite(s): HIS 123

THE 320

Peacemaking and Justice: 6 ECTS credits. This course provides a thematic study of peace and justice in both the Old and New Testaments and as portrayed by a variety of Christian writers. Peace and justice are recognized as central themes of the Bible, and are examined in relation to Biblical teachings on God, salvation, and the life, death and resurrection of Jesus. This course also considers working at peace and justice on personal, community, national, international, and cross-cultural levels.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, BIB 201, CST 200

THE 344

Major Christian Traditions: Orthodox, Catholic, and Protestant: 6 ECTS credits. The Eastern Orthodox, Roman Catholic, and Protestant traditions are examined. The course will consider historical backgrounds for each, and will discuss their distinctiveness in theological issues and also in church practice. Ecumenical issues and modern movements will also be discussed.

Prerequisite(s): THE 261, PHI 341

THE 350

History and Theology of Mission: 6 ECTS credits. A survey of the contemporary discussion of the church's mission, emphasizing the biblical foundations, the history of mission, and the development of mission theology. Implications for both theory and practice in ministry in the global and contextualized region of Central and Eastern Europe are also addressed.

THE 371

Christian Classics: 6 ECTS credits. The most influential contributors to Christian thought are examined with regard to their impact upon the formation and direction of Christian theology. These may include Origen, the Cappadocian Fathers, Augustine, Anselm, Aquinas, Luther, Calvin, Edwards, Wesley, Schleiermacher, Barth and Rahner.

REL/COM/ENG 404

Faith and Film: 6 ECTS credits. In today's world, significant public discussions about questions of the meaning of life, hope, and faith are often centered on films rather than on written texts. This class will study a wide variety of films some of which deal with faith issues directly or indirectly. We will ask how Christian theology contributes to our understanding of these films, and how they reflect the religious beliefs and aspirations present in our society.

Prerequisite(s): BIB 200, BIB 201

THE 410

Special Topics: 6 ECTS credits. The course content varies as the opportunity to obtain a guest instructor to present an area of specialization is available. The specific title and course description will be provided when the course offering is made available for registration.

THE 430

Christian Theology: 6 ECTS credits. This course will approach theology as an academic discipline and will critically examine various theological systems of thought. The nature and methods of theology will be discussed, different answers that have been given to the perennial questions of theology will be explored, and theological systems will be used to apply the truths of the Christian faith to practical areas such as church ministry, ethics and personal faith.

Prerequisite: BIB 200, BIB 201

THE 479

Thesis Research and Proposal: 6 ECTS credits. This course will emphasize the development of a thesis proposal which will include the description of the research method, the format of the proposed research and a detailed literature review providing the context and rationale for the proposed thesis.

THE 487

Thesis Research and Proposal: 9 ECTS credits. The milestone-based course consists of significant progress toward the completion of the bachelor's thesis (with THE 491). This course entails: 1) Extensive reading in preparation for the development of the thesis proposal; 2) development of the proposal including the description of research method, the format of proposed research and detailed literature review providing context and rationale for the proposed thesis; 3) oral defense of the proposal; and 4) completion of a substantial portion of the thesis itself.

THE 491

Thesis Writing and Defense: 6 ECTS credits. In this course students will research and write a thesis based on the Thesis Proposal prepared in THE 479. Advanced research techniques will be required. The thesis will be presented at a public oral defense.

Prerequisite(s): THE 487

THE 493

Final Project: 3 ECTS credits.

In this course students will research and write a final project for the minor portion of the double degree. The exact nature of the project will be determined in consultation with the student's advisor and the chair of the department in which the minor portion of the double degree is taken.

Prerequisite(s): Senior status

THE 494

Thesis Writing and Defense: 9 ECTS credits. In this course students will research and write a thesis based on the Thesis Proposal prepared in THE 479. Advanced research techniques will be required. The thesis will be presented at a public oral defense.

Prerequisite(s): THE 479

PREREQUISITE INTENSIVE MODULE IN ENGLISH (PRIME)

PME 096

Academic Communication I: Listening, Note taking and Discussion: 0 ECTS credits. Focused listening and note-taking are the emphasis in this course. This course is designed to sharpen students listening skills by preparing for and listening to academic lectures while at the same time, learning a variety of techniques for taking notes that will promote retention of the material. Vocabulary and discussions are also important components of the course.

PME 097

Introduction to the Gospels: Mark: 0 ECTS credits. This course is a basic course in the study of the Gospel of Mark. Students learn about the life of Jesus by reading and studying the text. This class is a variety of short lectures, class discussions, character studies, and close reading of several key passages. Students will read the entire gospel of Mark during the course.

PME 098

Contemporary Global Issues: 0 ECTS credits. This course seeks to improve student's use of English in an academic setting by focused study of current world events and global issues. Students read newspapers, periodicals, and journals to develop a rich, in-depth understanding of today's most relevant global events. Students learn how to express opinions and compare and contrast opposing views on topics through summaries, oral presentations and discussions.

PME 099

Integrated Academic Skills: 0 ECTS credits.

This course integrates reading, writing, speaking, listening and grammar as students study themes and content materials at the university level. For example, academic lectures build note-taking and listening skills. Reading passages build vocabulary and comprehension while serving as catalysts for writing activities. Grammar exercises build students' confidence in speaking and writing.

PME 100

English Grammar and Syntax: 3 ECTS credits. In this course, students will study the form, meaning and usage of key elements of grammar. Grammar instruction will be combined with focused practice as well as writing and speaking exercises in order for the grammar points to be integrated into the students' English language framework. Grammar points will likely be verb tenses and aspects, conditionals, modals, clauses, nouns/articles, and passive voice.

PME 101

Academic Reading and Vocabulary I: 3 ECTS credits. This is an advanced reading course with the goal for students to read non-fiction and short stories extensively to develop reading comprehension skills. In class, reading strategies are developed to foster comprehension and reading speed. Study skills are fostered through homework assignments. Student periodically report on extensive reading assignments through class discussion, exercises, oral presentations and reflective essays. Vocabulary is an important component in the course.

PME 102

Introduction to University Writing: 3 ECTS credits. This advanced course helps students to improve their writing skills for a university setting by writing well-developed paragraphs and essays. Students typically write 3-5 paragraphs and 2 essays in one semester. The course is taught using the process writing approach which includes peer editing.

PME 150

Academic Communication II: Presentation Skills: 3 ECTS credits.

This course is designed as a skill-building course; students will spend a majority of the course developing their public speaking skills in order to be successful in university classes. Students will learn skills to make individual and group presentations. Pronunciation and enunciation will be important components of the class.

PME 151

Academic Reading and Vocabulary II: 3 ECTS credits.

This is an advanced reading course that promotes reading for academic purposes. Students read and study both selected literature and non-fiction texts both inside and outside of class. Emphasis is placed on critical thinking, analysis and evaluation skills. Vocabulary for academic purposes is emphasized.

PME 152

University Research Writing: 3 ECTS credits.

Students focus their attention on reading and writing on specific topics with the goal of a final documented essay using multiple sources. Special emphasis is placed on library research skills, quoting and paraphrasing, and using in-text documentation.

LCC is committed to the historic Christian faith, which is expressed in the ecumenical creeds. These Creeds were formulated in the early centuries of Christian history, prior to the division of the Church into Orthodox, Catholic and Protestant (or Evangelical) branches. They are shared expressions of our common Christian faith.

THE APOSTLE'S CREED

I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth.

I believe in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord. He was conceived by the power of the Holy Spirit and born of the Virgin Mary. He suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried. He descended to the dead. On the third day He rose again. He ascended into heaven and sits at the right hand of God, the Father Almighty. From there He shall come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy catholic Church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. Amen.

THE NICENE CREED

We believe in one God, the Father, the Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, and of all that is seen and unseen.

We believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the only Son of God, eternally begotten of the Father, God of God, Light of Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, one in being with the Father. Through Him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation, He came down from heaven: by the power of the Holy Spirit He was born of the Virgin Mary, and was made man. For our sake He was crucified under Pontius Pilate; He suffered, died, and was buried. On the third day He rose again according to the Scriptures; He ascended into heaven and is seated on the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead, and His kingdom shall have no end.

We believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father (and the Son). With the Father and the Son He is worshipped and glorified. He has spoken through the prophets. We believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church. We acknowledge one baptism for the forgiveness of sins. We look for the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come. Amen.
