

Fall 2025

To our global LCC community,

Today marks a defining moment in the life of LCC International University as we launch Give Forward: The President's Legacy Project—a $10 million initiative dedicated to expanding the impact of LCC's Christian liberal arts education for generations to come.

For twenty-five years, I have watched LCC grow not because we sought to be bigger, but because we felt called to be faithful – faithful to our mission, to our students, and to the hope that Christ-centered education brings to a world in need of reconciliation, wisdom, and courage. Through seasons of challenge and opportunity, our community has stepped forward with conviction – strengthening academic excellence, widening global reach, deepening spiritual formation, and advancing the kind of transformative learning that changes lives.

Give Forward is a commitment to the future of this mission. Every gift to this campaign invests directly in the students, faculty, programs, and spaces that shape the LCC experience. It is about opening doors for young people to learn and lead, resourcing innovative teaching and research, and strengthening the community that has become home to so many. Above all, it reflects our steadfast belief that education rooted in faith can restore hope and bring light to places the world often overlooks.

Our university is in motion—growing, adapting, and preparing for what comes next. This campaign is our promise to sustain that momentum, to steward the mission with integrity, and to ensure that LCC continues to be a place where students encounter truth, are formed by community, and are sent out to serve with purpose.

I am profoundly grateful to the Board of Directors, our Advancement team, and the many partners whose vision and dedication have brought this initiative to life. Their commitment gives me great confidence that the next chapter of LCC's story will be marked by boldness, generosity, and God's ongoing faithfulness.

As I conclude my 25 years of service in July 2026, my hope is simple: that we will give forward—not only in honor of the past, but in anticipation of the future God is shaping here.

Together, we continue the mission.

With gratitude,

Dr. Marlene Wall
President, LCC International University